

9 Ships Sunk
By Underwater
Explosion Of Atomic Bomb

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE

Aboard USS Appalachian, Bikini Lagoon, July 25 (AP)—The first underwater atomic bomb, exploding with an awesome roar that thundered upward into a beautiful cloudy geyser, destroyed the battleship Arkansas and sank the huge old aircraft carrier Saratoga and seven lesser vessels today.

Associated Press Correspondent Don Whitehead, in the best position to view the blast from a B-29, said it was so powerful that the Arkansas was shoved far out of her original anchorage just before she sank and other target vessels near the center of the fleet of 75 were tossed about like toys.

First to go in the mighty plutonium blast that was the second chapter of the Army-Navy "Operation Crossroads" was the old 26,100-ton battleship Arkansas. She and two small craft, a yard oiler and a tank-landing ship, simply disappeared in the pink-fringed mist at 8:35 a. m. (4:35 p. m., EST, Wednesday).

Big Saratoga Sinks

Seven hours and 32 minutes later, at 4:07 p. m., the 33,000-ton Saratoga, war-worn old carrier, settled protestingly to the bottom of Bikini Lagoon. Her prow nosed upward as if her stern were resting on the bottom, then disappeared.

A little later five submarines of the six that had been submerged in the lagoon were found to be resting on the bottom. Whether they were crushed or had sunk through some defects in their air lines was not known.

Probably the most powerful man-made force ever loosed—perhaps even stronger than the bomb that razed most of Nagasaki last August—the atomic bomb did not immediately sink as many of the 75 target vessels as observers had expected.

The true extent of the damage is still unknown. However, ships still were "hot" with radioactivity many hours later. Navy men and scientists edged ever closer and re-entered the lagoon with sensitive instruments, trying to determine the danger and ascertain the full damage as soon as possible.

Tugs Turn Back

The radioactivity was so great that two tugs which went to the rescue of the Saratoga, under orders from Task Force Commander Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy to try to beach her, had to turn back and let the (Please Turn to Page 2)

SOLDIER'S LEG
BROKEN; OTHER
ACCIDENT CASES

Sergeant Ridge, Camp Ritchie, Md., was admitted as a patient to the Warner hospital this morning following an auto accident in Maryland. It was reported his auto struck a bridge wall. Sergeant Ridge received a compound fracture of the right leg and lacerations to the face and neck.

A companion, Charles Bury, was to be discharged this afternoon after receiving treatment for minor injuries.

Charles D. Spriggs, Gettysburg R. 2, was treated Wednesday afternoon for a laceration of the left fourth finger received while working at a saw mill.

Stanley Hostler, 18, a student at Gettysburg college, received treatment for a dislocation of the distal joint of the right fifth finger sustained in a softball game.

Other Cases

Oscar Ripberger, 42 North Washington street, was treated this morning for contusions and abrasions of the back received when he fell against a brace on a scaffolding while carrying a bucket of cement.

Charles H. Dunn, Eberhart hotel, has been admitted as a patient following an explosion of a gasoline stove he was attempting to light. He received singed hair and eyebrows.

The following were operated upon this morning for the removal of their tonsils: Ruth Hiltnerick, Taneytown; Peggy Jordan, Gettysburg R. 4; George Collins, Littlestown; John Clabaugh, Littlestown R. 2; Dale Sheffer, Gettysburg R. 3; Ann Louise Callahan, 125 West Middle street, and Richard Francis Groff, 123 West Middle street.

JOHN R. HAMM
AGAIN HEAD OF RURAL MAILMEN

John R. Hamm, New Oxford, was re-elected president of the Pennsylvania Rural Letter Carriers' association for his third consecutive one-year term at the closing session of the group's golden jubilee convention at Easton Wednesday.

Mr. Hamm was unopposed at the election. Harry A. Blair, Ruffsdale, other nominee for the presidency, withdrew before the balloting.

Also re-elected without opposition were Lenn A. Dague, of Eighty-four, vice president; Harold B. Thomas, Orangeville, secretary, and Ralph J. Schroyer, Breinigsville, treasurer.

Going to National Convention

Mrs. Clyde Hall, Corry, was elected president of the Auxiliary, which ended its 25th convention. She succeeds Mrs. Max B. Lightner of Duncannon. Mrs. Archie Squier, Townville, was re-elected secretary, and Mrs. Ralph Weber, Blair county, was elected treasurer.

Milton H. Miller, Penargyl, and President Hamm were named delegates-at-large to the national convention at Des Moines.

Mrs. Hamm, a former officer of the state Rural Letter Carriers' Auxiliary, was among the Auxiliary's delegates selected to go to the national convention. She will represent Adams county.

Oppose Strikes

Resolutions calling for revision of retirement laws and improved working conditions were passed. The association went on record opposing affiliation with organizations which employ the strike weapon.

One resolution called for an end to the present $1,200 maximum annuity payment. In its stead, the carriers advocated a sliding rate ranging from $1,200 for employees earning $1,800 a year while on active service to $1,733 for those earning $2,600. They also advocated automatic retirement at the maximum annuity at the end of 30 years' service, regardless of the age of the carrier.

Other resolutions passed were:

That the state highway department take over the care of mail boxes and the maintenance of approaches to them along primary roads.

That the carriers establish a larger representative body in Washington to handle their legislative program.

Ask Five-Day Week

That all post offices be forced to install adequate heating and lighting facilities to safeguard the health of employees.

That the responsibility for securing substitute carriers be placed upon postmasters rather than upon regular carriers.

That a five-day week, with no change in basic pay rate, be established.

That inequalities in routes be ironed out so that the work burden will fall equally on all carriers.

SAILOR DIES IN GUAM ACCIDENT

S 2/c James B. Bowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Bowers, near Emmitsburg, was killed on the island of Guam in the line of duty according to a war department telegram sent to his parents. Interment was made on Guam.

Seaman Bowers enlisted February 4, 1945, in the navy and received his boot training at Camp Perry, Va. Transferred to Treasure Island for further duty after his post-training leave, he sailed June 13 for Guam where he was killed in an accident, according to the War Department.

"Educated at St. Euphemia's Catholic school and at the public school in Emmitsburg he was 17 years and five months of age at the time of death. He worked for two years on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Furey before enlisting.

Besides his parents he is survived by the following brothers and sisters, John E., Harry I., Francis X., Roseann M., Loretta M. and Paula F. Bowers. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Lehr, York and Isaac Bowers, Bellaire, Ohio, also survive.

Lee M. Hartman
Accepts Position

Lee M. Hartman, former Adams county prothonotary, has accepted a post in the production department of the national Fruit Product corporation plant at Peach Glen, the company announced today.

Hartman, who lives at 56 Hanover street, was inducted into the navy in 1943 while serving as prothonotary and was discharged in 1945. A large part of his service in the navy was spent as a physical education instructor at the Naval base at Charlottesville, Va.

REGISTRATION
SCHEDULE FOR ELECTION SET

A schedule for the registration of voters who are not now registered or who have changed their addresses, was set up Wednesday by the Adams county commissioners, and will be announced when it has been approved by the chairman of the Republican and Democratic county committees, Clarence C. Smith, chief clerk, said today.

Dates, hours and places have been set up for the registration, which will close on September 14. Mr. Smith said Adams counties may register in any district, regardless of whether they reside in that district. The registration roll will be filed in the office of the county commissioners, and the registrants transferred to their proper districts.

Vets Must Register

It was particularly stressed by Mr. Smith that all former servicemen who are not registered, must do so before they can vote this fall.

The commissioners Wednesday visited the new macadam road being built by the State Highway department from the Arendtsville-Brysonia road to Flora Dale, a distance of two miles, and surveyed damage and possible claims against the county resulting from changes and re-locations of the highway.

Construction work was begun in 1940, and then held up by the war. Mr. Smith said. The state had completed staking out the new road and has shovels and trucks on the job now.

The status of the plans for construction of a new jail on the Biglerville road remained unchanged, Mr. Smith said. Plans have been prepared and approved, but the county has been unable yet to obtain priorities for scarce materials needed in its construction.

Posts Bail For Sentence Court

Rankin Thomas Gossert, caretaker at Camp Sharpe, arrested Tuesday on a hit and run charge and committed to jail in default of $300 bail after signing a plea of guilty to the charge, was released on bail Wednesday, for appearance in sentence court.

Gossert is charged with hitting the automobile of Joseph J. Tyler, Baltimore, at West Middle and South Washington street last Saturday night, and with failing to stop.

Clark Heller Wins
In Cherry Blossom

Clark Heller, Biglerville, was the winner Wednesday afternoon in the drawing held at the Musselman Cherry Blossom orchard at the conclusion of cherry picking there.

Heller received a portable radio for being selected from 350 pickers eligible for the award which was the third grand prize given this summer by the C. H. Musselman Company to pickers on the three local orchards operated by the company. One radio was given at each orchard. A number of other awards are being given to pickers who fulfilled certain qualifications during the season.

FIRE COMPANY
AT FAIRFIELD
TO BUY BUILDING

The Fairfield Fire company decided to purchase the Fairfield community center building for $8,000 at a session held Wednesday evening at Fairfield, Fire Chief C. LeRoy Sheads said today, but it was explained that some little time will elapse before the company can take possession of the building.

Erected in 1939 by the Fairfield Civic club, the structure was rented to the Fairfield school board on a lease extending to 1940 for use by the board as a place for athletics and entertainment by the school children.

A committee comprising S. L. Allison, Howard Weikert and Donald Neely was appointed by the firemen Wednesday to meet with Civic club officials and the school board to discuss the cancellation of the school board lease in order that the Civic club can sell the structure to the firemen.

Would Add Structure

Plans discussed Wednesday night provide for the erection of a 35 or 40-foot-long structure against the rear of the present community center in which the fire engines will be stored. Originally it was thought possible that ramps could be constructed so that the fire engines (Please Turn to Page 2)

DRIVERS NABBED

State police today announced the arrest of Roland Harry Groff, Hanover, on a charge of reckless driving filed before Justice of the Peace Claude Straley, New Oxford, and Charles W. Evans, Pottsgrove, charged with making an improper pass before Justice George Brandt, Dillsburg. Ten-day notices were sent in each case.

GIVE MONEY FOR WAR MEMORIAL
AT EAST BERLIN

A total of $4,495 toward the fund of $30,000 required to erect a community building as a "Living Memorial" to veterans of both World Wars from the East Berlin school district has already been obtained. Most of the amount has been pledged, but $200 was given outright as an unsolicited contribution from George F. Kennan, East Berlin R. 2, former secretary to the U. S. Embassy. It is said that the obtained amount is enough to build the foundation of the memorial edifice.

The East Berlin Lions club pledged $1,000 as an organization, while its members signed up to give $1,545 as individuals. Two hundred dollars was the contribution of Elmer M. Gruver, East Berlin high school principal and president of the Living Memorial Fund, and the high school's student body has agreed to contribute $1,500 by April 1, 1947.

A giant "thermometer" is being made on which will be recorded in red paint the progress of the fund toward its goal. The thermometer will be placed on the outside wall of the store in East Berlin operated by George W. Moul, treasurer, who will have charge of painting the record.

To Name Solicitors

These facts were made public at the third meeting of townspeople to arrange for the memorial, conducted Tuesday evening in a classroom of the East Berlin high school with 29 persons present.

It is proposed that the building be erected on a tract of land slightly northeast of the high school campus. A plan of the position and layout (Please Turn to Page 8)

75 Attend Annual
Eastern Star Picnic

Seventy-five adults and youngsters took part in the annual picnic of the Gettysburg chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star Wednesday afternoon and evening at Shepherd's park.

Mrs. Ray Kitzmiller, worthy matron of the chapter, was in charge of games. Winners among the youngsters included: Peanut scramble, Joan Geiselman, Biglerville; race for 'teen agers, Emma Rachael Scott, Gettysburg; shoe race, Samuel Scott, Gettysburg, and Joan Geiselman, and race for children six years old, Thomas Kitzmiller, Seminary avenue.

Countian Charged
After Collisions

George H. Lau, High street, New Oxford, has been charged by Hanover borough police with failing to stop and reveal his identity at the scene of an accident in which he was allegedly involved. The information was laid before Justice of the Peace J. D. Moore, Hanover. He has been sent a ten-day notice.

An automobile, which police say Lau admitted driving, struck two parked cars Sunday night. A car belong to Herbert Wagner, Hanover, was damaged to the extent of about $25, and an automobile belonging to Milton Sterner, also of Hanover, was damaged to the extent of $10.

A witness of the accident provided Hanover police with the license number and a description of the hit-run car. State police of the Gettysburg detail determined the ownership of the car. The charge was laid after police had questioned Lau.

BANKERS PLAN
HALF HOLIDAY ON V-J DAY

The Adams County Bankers' association, meeting Wednesday evening at a ladies' night session in the Log Cabin inn, Caledonia, voted to close their banks for the afternoon of August 14 in connection with the Welcome Home celebration and then heard details of how banks throughout the county are conducting farm programs from a former infantry colonel, Floyd M. Call, of the agricultural commission of the American Bankers' association.

Urging all banks to take part in programs suited to the development of agriculture, Call presented figures showing that 39,207 Pennsylvania farmers during 1945 borrowed $38,744,000 from various banks in the state while at the same time 7,553 farmers in the state borrowed $10,259,000 from the various governmental lending agencies.

A survey conducted by the ABA disclosed that besides the $36,189,000 in agricultural loans reported outstanding by Pennsylvania banks at the beginning of 1946, the banks also had at least $233,028,000 available for additional loans to farmers if the demand existed.

Cite PCA Loans

The Carlisle Production Credit association, a government agency which makes loans in this area, made 444 loans during 1945, a drop from 1944 when the PCA made 453 loans. However, the amount went up. Call said, in total loans by the Carlisle unit from $569,000 to $618,000. He had no figures available for the amount of loans made by Adams county banks to farmers during the same period.

BROTHERS HURT IN CAR CRASH

Two brothers, one a soldier, were injured when their car collided with a farm tractor on the Lincoln highway about one mile west of Thomasville at about 5:30 p. m., Wednesday. The vehicles virtually were demolished.

The brothers, Cpl. Ralph E. Trone, 30, of 126 North George street, York, who is stationed in Greensboro, S. C., and Charles E. Trone, 34, Lincoln highway east, New Oxford, were taken to the West Side Osteopathic hospital for treatment.

Corporal Trone suffered a compound fracture of the right forearm and lacerations of the head and face. He was removed to an army hospital at Carlisle in an army ambulance. His brother suffered an injury to the left foot. He was X-rayed and discharged.

Donald Smith, Hanover R. 4, driver of the tractor, was uninjured.

State Policeman George E. Ackerson gave this version of the crash: The tractor was moving east and as it reached the center traffic lane in a left turn toward a service station, the passenger car, driven by Charles Trone, approached from the same direction and tractor, turned rear left wheel of the tractor, turned over several times and halted in a yard about 280 feet away on the south side of the highway.

The car stopped about two feet from the home of Norman Menges. Officer Ackerson said Trone apparently misjudged the distance from his machine to the tractor as he approached.

The state trooper estimated total damage to the vehicles at $1,500.

DEMONSTRATE SPRAYING AND DUSTING PIECES

What was described by some growers as "the finest demonstration of spraying and dusting equipment ever presented in this section" was conducted Wednesday afternoon in the William Oyler orchards between Arendtsville and McKnightstown as part of the annual field day and demonstration of the Adams County Fruit Growers association. More than 1,000 attended the afternoon session.

Fourteen different types of equipment were shown in addition to demonstrations of airplane dusting and spraying. Those cooperating in the display included the Arendtsville Research laboratory, William Oyler, Glenn Slaybaugh, Donald Garretson, B. E. Benner, E. B. Romig, Richard Trostle, M. E. Knouse, John Pitzer, S. W. Grove and Crist Stoltzfus.

All of the equipment displayed, with one exception, was machinery currently in use on orchards in this area. The exception was an experimental vapor duster for dust or liquid concentrates.

Mass Demonstration

After individual displays were shown of the spray rigs in operation all of them were lined up along the edge of the Oyler orchard and all went into operation at the same time.

Starting with a 20-gallon per minute pump, with which the operator of the spray gun walked beside the vehicle, the demonstration progressed to more mechanized sprayers, including two rigs using spray masts, one with seven guns and one with (Please Turn to Page 7)

WITHDRAWS COMPLAINT

Hubert Wise, Breckenridge street, arrested Monday on a surety of the peace charge on complaint of his wife, and committed to jail by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore Monday night when he failed to appear for a scheduled hearing, was released Wednesday night when the wife withdrew her complaint and paid the costs.

BAILED FOR HEARING

Harry McClellan, Fairfield R. D., arrested at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday on an assault and battery charge preferred by Georgia Brady, High street, was released later by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder in $300 bail for a hearing tonight at 8:30 p. m.

New OPA Bill Awaits
President's Signature

Washington, July 25 (AP)—President Truman probably will state whether he will sign or veto the OPA revival bill at a news conference at 4 p. m. (EST) today. At the time of a White House announcement to this effect, the bill had not reached Mr. Truman.

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, July 25 (AP)—President Truman's expected signature was the last step needed to revive OPA today.

Except for rents many of the agency's wartime powers will be curbed or removed.

But on Capitol Hill, virtually no one expressed any real doubt that the president will sign the extender bill which the Senate passed a few minutes after midnight, 53 to 26 and sent to the White House.

The House previously had approved the measure, 210 to 142. When signed by Mr. Truman, the bill automatically will be re-established with many of the price ceilings which lapsed July 1. OPA's plans are to follow quickly with a number of temporary adjustments on prices, pending calculation of new and higher ceilings required under the measure.

The bill gives OPA life through next June, but it prohibits restoration of price controls at least until August 20 on such major market basket items as meat and dairy products, as well as on grains, petroleum and tobacco.

Barkley has termed it substantially the same bill the chief executive vetoed June 29, but the Kennedys.

300 DOZEN CRABS

A hard-shelled crab supper will be served this evening at 7 o'clock to members of the local lodge of the Moose at the lodge home on York street. Officers in charge said 300 dozen crabs are on hand for the "feed."

Good Evening
Man's history began with Adam.
Will it end with the atom?

Through the cooperation of Gettysburg and Chambersburg borough police and the local sub-station of the state police two Charlottesville, Va., negroes and a white woman charged with stealing a watch in Chambersburg were apprehended here early this morning within two hours after the alleged theft. The woman later escaped during questioning.

Herbert James Greene, 29, and Wesley Gongillar Smith, 18, were the two negro men. The white woman traveling with them was Jean Cohone, 23, also of Charlottesville, Va.

About 3 o'clock this morning James A. Gettins, 19, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Gettins, Greensburg R. 2 stopped at a service station in Chambersburg while enroute to the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention in Philadelphia.

James Gettins told Chambersburg police that he had gone to the rest room in the service station and removed his wrist watch while washing his hands. He left the room forgetting the watch and the two negroes entered. A few minutes later when Gettins missed his watch he returned to the rest room. The negroes and watch had all disappeared.

Gettins told the Chambersburg police he gave chase in his car and stopped the negroes who told him they had not taken the time piece. He asked them to wait while he called Chambersburg police but they drove on.

Chambersburg police, when told the men and woman were headed for Gettysburg called the state police here. They notified borough police and Borough Officer Kenneth "Hack" Tawney stopped the vehicle on York street at 4:45 o'clock.

Finds Watch in Car

The negroes had $84 in one dollar bills, and checks and money orders totalling several hundred dollars, police say.

During the questioning the woman asked to go to the rest room. Permission was granted and the girl disappeared while a state policeman, who was alone at the time, was questioning the two men.

A search for the woman was being conducted throughout this section today.

Police Seek Woman

Chambersburg police later this morning removed the two negroes to Chambersburg and issued a warrant for the arrest of the woman.

Officer Tawney preferred charges of driving too fast for road conditions and operating an automobile without an operator's license against Smith. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, Smith was convicted and fined $10 and costs on each charge.

Neither Smith nor Greene could produce selective service cards, and the FBI office at York was notified, and was said to be investigating.

BULLETINS

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—State Attorney William J. Tuohy said today the handwriting on the Suzanne Degnan ransom note and the lipstick message on the apartment wall of the slain former Wave, Frances Brown, was that of William Heirens, 17-year-old University of Chicago student.

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The War Department said today that Rep. May (D-Ky) twice intervened with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower during the court martial of Capt. Joseph H. Garsson, son of a midwestern musician. (Continued on Page 2)

Littlestown

D. M. SWOPE IS CLUB'S SPEAKER

The Littlestown Rotary club postponed its scheduled outing at Natural Dam with the Boy Scouts Tuesday evening because of the rainy weather and met instead in Schott's banquet hall. Donald M. Swope, Gettysburg attorney, who served in the army with the AMO, discussed the problems of the military government, war supply, and the maintenance of civil government in conquered areas. He served in France, Luxembourg, and Germany.

LT. J. R. Riden, recently discharged from the navy, told of the activities of the LCT of which he was skipper. LCTs are called the "trucks of the fleet," he stated, and haul supplies from shore to large ships for loading. His ship could carry 150 tons of supplies. He was at Bikini previous to the atom bomb test, and saw the fleet there from the air.

The meeting was in charge of the program committee, composed of Thomas C. McSherry, George P. Smith, Cloy I. Crouse, Arthur E. Blair, and Roy D. Knouse.

Veterans To March Saturday

Members of the American Legion post, members of the V.F.W. post, and unaffiliated veterans will all march in the Homecoming parade Saturday afternoon as one unit. They will march from the playground, where the parade will form, and go only as far as St. Aloyst's church, where they will fall out and view the remainder of the parade from a space which will be reserved for them. They will march with or without uniforms, but preferably in uniform.

All veterans are asked to assemble at the playground for a short memorial service in honor of their departed comrades at 12:45 p. m., after which they will form their unit for the parade.

The men of St. James Reformed church will meet Friday at 1 p. m. to paint the cook-house.

MRS. SPRINGER EXPIRES AT 62

Mrs. Anna Belle Springer, 62, wife of C. C. Springer, died at her home in Emmitsburg Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock from a complication of diseases.

She was a daughter of the late David and Mary (Willet) Bentzell. Mrs. Springer was a member of Elias Lutheran church, Emmitsburg, for 35 years and taught the Women's Bible class for 15 years. She was a member of the Emmitsburg chapter of the Order of Eastern Star.

In addition to her husband she is survived by one son, Clyde, at home; two brothers, Calvin Bentzell, Hanover, and D. E. Bentzell, Harrisburg, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Hess, Harrisburg.

Funeral services Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, standard time, from the Elias Lutheran church conducted by the Rev. Philip Bower. Interment in Mountainview cemetery, Emmitsburg. Friends may call at the Allison funeral home Emmitsburg, Saturday evening after 7 o'clock. The body will lie in state at the church from 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon until the time of the services.

could be placed in the basement of the building.

Under the proposed plan of an addition to the rear of the community center, sufficient length could be provided not only to store the fire engines but to stretch out hose for drying and provide other facilities while the community center could continue to be used for various community activities.

Heads of the Civic club are the Rev. A. W. Grigley, B. E. Benner and J. Warren Martin. It was stated today. The present fire engine house was secured by the company in 1926. It was a private home at that time and converted to use as a fire house. Vice President Sherman Sites presided at Wednesday's session with 28 present.

Countians Named To FSA Committee

The appointment of Edgar W. Weaver, Gettysburg R. 4, and Casper H. Hoke, Spring Grove R. 3, as new members of the Adams and York County Farm Security Administration committee was announced today by County Supervisor Clarence A. Myers.

Appointed by State FSA Director Carson F. Mertz, the new members took office July 1 for three-year terms. They join O. H. Benson, Gettysburg R. 5, and Kenneth D. Bream, Gettysburg R. 2, of the Adams county committee and L. O. Thompson, New Freedom R. 1, and Dale D. Klugore, Woodbine R. 1, of the York county committee.

Weddings

Sieg-Smith

Miss Leah C. Smith, daughter of R. H. Smith, Hanover street, New Oxford, and Donald D. Sieg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rush Sieg, near New Oxford, were united in marriage Monday afternoon, at 4:30 in the rectory of the Church of the Ascension, Bradley Beach, N. J., by the Rt. Rev. John J. O'Hara. The attendants were Miss Harriet Smith, sister of the bride, and Earl Moore, New Oxford. The bride wore a pink dress with white accessories and a corsage of white sweetpeas. The bridesmaid wore a yellow dress and a corsage of white sweetpeas. The groom was discharged from the Marines in January after serving 36 months. Mr. Sieg is a graduate of New Oxford high school with the class of 1940 and the bride graduated from De-lone Catholic high, McSherrystown, in 1942. They will reside at Ocean Grove until September. The groom will enter Utilities Engineering school at Newark, N. J., in the fall.

Martin-Zartman

Bruce F. Martin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce F. Martin, Tunk-hannock, Pa., and Miss Pauline R. Zartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Zartman, of Abbotstown, were married at 8:30 o'clock Sunday night in Towson, Md. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John W. Westerman, a Lutheran clergyman.

The bride was attired in a yellow street-length dress and wore black accessories. Her flowers were a shoulder bouquet of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony, the couple spent a honeymoon of several days in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin are residing in their newly-furnished apartment at 631 North George street, York.

Both bride and bridegroom are graduates of the New Oxford high school.

Mr. Martin is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad, while Mrs. Martin is a beautician at the Marie Louise Beauty salon, York.

Wintrobe-Gouker

Miss Phyllis Gouker, daughter of Mrs. Annie Gouker, Hanover, became the bride of Pfc. Lloyd C. Wintrobe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wintrobe, Littlestown, Monday morning in the parsonage of Emmanuel Lutheran church, Manchester, Md. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. L. H. Rehmeyer. The bride was attended by Miss Joyce Jacoby, Hanover, as maid of honor, and the bridegroom had as his best man, his brother, Pfc. Emory Wintrobe, Littlestown. The bridegroom has re-enlisted for eighteen months. The bride, who is employed by the Cannon Shoe company, McSherrystown, will reside in Hanover, until the return of her husband.

HEIRENS NAMES UNKNOWN PAL IN BRUTAL DEATHS

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—State's Attorney William J. Tuohy prepared to go before the Cook county grand jury today and seek indictments against William Heirens for the kidnap-killing of Suzanne Degnan and the "lipstick" slaying of Miss Frances Brown, a former WAVE.

The state's attorney's plans to seek murder indictments against the 17-year-old college student were disclosed as he released a 118 page statement, consisting of questions by prosecutors, and answers by Heirens. In the statement, taken in the Bridewell jail hospital on June 30, Heirens denied the kidnaping and slaying of the six-year-old Degnan child and suggested "George Murman," as the probable slayer.

"George Murman" has been described by Tuohy as a fictitious character, and he said that Heirens in his statement telling of crimes committed by "George Murman" was speaking of himself. Tuohy said Heirens accused "Murman" of crimes he later admitted he had committed.

Deny Making Deal

The statement was made by the University of Chicago student four days after he had been arrested. About 10 days later Chicago newspapers said the youth had orally admitted three slaying—the Degnan crime on January 7; the slaying of Miss Brown on December 10, and the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Josephine Ross on June 5, 1945.

Heirens, who has denied making the admissions, has not been charged with any of the slayings. Chicago newspapers, however, have said he will make a written confession of the slayings and the state's attorney will recommend a life sentence instead of the death sentence when he is arraigned in criminal court. Tuohy and defense counsel have denied they had made any "deal" relating to a written confession.

In the questions and answers statement, Heirens told the prosecutor he "felt very sorry" about the kidnap-killing of the Degnan child. "I understand what the parents go through for something like that," he said.

programs to help the farmer. Call asserted, with popular projects including soil conservation, better livestock, youth activities and better standards of living for farmers.

He urged every bank to have a farm representative, even if only a part-time one, to work with farmers in developing a better farm program.

Lands County Agents

Not only do the farm programs do much to help the farmer but they also help the bank in raising the general level of the community and act as an advertisement for the bank, the speaker said.

Some banks are aiding farmers by providing records for the farmers through checking accounts. For a nominal fee of $10 to cover the extra expense, the banks provide a complete yearly record service thus freeing the farmer from the book-work, Call added.

He termed the county agent "the most valuable man in the county" during his talk. The entire future of agriculture is being aided by the county agent and in some cases banks have paid the salary for assistants to county agents in order that the farm program of the agents could be better conducted, he added.

Seeking Loans

Banks throughout the county are aiding the 4-H and FFA movements and similar farm organizations, he added, with the idea of bettering farm relationships and bettering the farming industry.

The banks, he added, are in the position of having a surplus of commodities, with both service and loans to be given. "It is up to the banks to do everything possible to make loans rather than to think up reasons for not making loans. We exist only to serve the public and we can serve financially and through service to the community."

About 60 members and their wives attended the session at which the president, Elmer W. Warren, presided. Guests of the association were County Agent M. T. Hartman and Assistant County Agent Ira Dunmire.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Marriage licenses were issued at the court house today to Robert Calvin Carey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otho D. Carey, Franklin township, and Miss Mary O'Delle Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Rice, Biglerville, and to Kenneth Robert Slonaker, son of Mrs. Ida M. Slonaker, Fairfield R. 1, and Miss Dorothy Plank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Plank, Gettysburg R. 1.

SELLS FARM

James F. X. Vaughn and Edna J. Vaughn, of York, and Arthur W. Vaughn and Katherine I. Vaughn, Gettysburg R. 3, have sold their poultry and truck farm in Cumberland township to Cameron J. Wickline and Janet L. Wickline, Biglerville R. D. Possession will be given on or before November 1. The sale was made through John C. Bream.

Upper Communities

Daniel Hoffman, of Arendtsville, accompanied his daughter, Mrs. Marian Culp, to Philadelphia Wednesday where she entered the University of Pennsylvania hospital for observation.

Dr. M. T. Dill, of Biglerville, returned Tuesday from Prescott, Wisconsin, where he visited his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Neely.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Slaybaugh have returned to Delaware City, Delaware, after a visit with Mrs. Slaybaugh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fohl, of Biglerville.

The Biglerville school board met in special session Wednesday evening to transact business.

The Ladies' Bible class of Bethlehem Lutheran Sunday school, Benderville, and their husbands, will conduct a service at the county home, Gettysburg, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Any members or guests desiring transportation are requested to meet at the home of Mrs. H. F. Quigle or Mrs. Annie Bucher at 7 o'clock.

gallant old lady die alone. The battleship New York and the Japanese battleship Nagato were listing, evidently damaged, as were the battered carrier Independence, the destroyer Hughes, the transport Fallon and the heavy cruiser Pensacola.

A reef and ten miles of blue Pacific separated this ship from the target fleet when the bomb went off. Observers had their glasses on the mast of a small landing craft that was above the submerged atom bomb.

Grotesque Mushroom

A voice on the ship's loud speaker droned off the seconds and the world's fifth atomic bomb was set off by remote radio controls.

An almost incredibly white dome of water rose where the slim mast had stood. It glowed momentarily. Then it spread, at first wide and flat, to perhaps half a mile in breadth. Suddenly it shot upward with lightning speed.

At the top of the dome, the water spread in a great wide column with a rounded top. In two seconds the top widened like a grotesque mushroom, whose thick stem by that time was nearly a half-mile wide at the base, which in turn was boiling upward.

The air mushroom spread out to more than a mile wide. All this time the entire display was dazzling white.

Then from the widening edges of the mushroom umbrella pure white points of water, v-shaped began streaming down toward the ships. Many of these sprays were far larger than any of the big battleships.

Ship's Stack Crushed

At this moment must have been occurring one of the almost incredible phenomena of atomic energy. Water thrown against the Saratoga crushed her massive stack, knocking half of it to the flight deck.

A series of waves spread from the spot where the bomb detonated. They raced out toward the ships outside the lagoon and some poured over a small island off Bikini's shore. The main island was not inundated. Admiral Bland estimated the wave was seven to ten feet high at Bikini Island—lower than had been expected.

Ships rocked. The hot force of the bomb's concussion was felt by some observers outside the lagoon. Parts of target ships' equipment, mattresses and the like, undulated on the waves.

Slowly the mist began to clear. Some of the target ships became visible again.

Ships Disappeared

Men who had expected many of the ships to be gone were amazed to see them floating where they last had seen them.

But all efforts to find the Arkansas, a concrete yard oiler, a tank landing ship and the medium landing ship over the bomb, were futile. They simply had disappeared.

Smoke began pouring from the Saratoga. It was possible to see that she was listing by the stern.

The supporting ships began moving in toward the lagoon.

CONVICT OFFICER

Boston, July 25 (AP)—Lt. Thomas Farrell was out on $10,000 bail today after conviction by a jury of branding 18-year-old Helen Stavrou with lighted cigarettes and a razor blade during a 17-hour orgy last March in a Boston hotel. Farrell is to appear next Monday before Judge Edward Voke for sentencing.

Philadelphia, July 25 (AP)—Three screaming men trapped in an overturned automobile were rescued today just before flames swept the interior of the sedan. The automobile, coming off the Delaware River bridge, collided with a truck trailer and was crushed against a wall. The truck, loaded with 3,000 gallons of ice cream, was damaged slightly in the crash and scorched by the fire.

Highway vs. Marketeers, 7 p. m.

The Highway, Ice and Storage and Acme turned in victories in the Community Softball league staged Wednesday evening while the Marketeers and VFW played to a 2-2 tie.

In the opening game the Highway pushed over three runs in the opening inning and then went on to record a 1-0 victory over the W. E. Aires. Stambaugh, Highway catcher, hit a homerun over the left field fence in the opening inning with King on base. Hedman and McClellan formed the winning battery with Tawney and McClellan working for the Aires.

Extra Inning

Darkness halted the Marketeers and VFW after eight innings with the score tied at 2-2. Trussell's double scored McClellan for the Marketeers first run in the fourth. In the last of the fifth the Vets went ahead on Martin's walk, an out, a fielder's choice, another out and Clarence Epley's single. The Marketeers tied the count in the sixth on a single by Rider, a two-base wild throw and another infield error.

The Ice and Storage snapped a long losing streak by nosing out the State Guard 6-5 in the opener on the college field.

Three runs in the first inning enabled the Acme to upset Knox's Grocery 4-0 in the nightcap on the college diamond.

Boxing Matches At York Next Tuesday

York, July 25—Ernie Calhoun, hard-hitting young York light-weight, will face a stiff test in Brown "Sweetcakes" Lee, of Harrisburg, when the two clash in the six round semi-final of Promoter Norman Clock's professional boxing show to be held at the West York Ball park next Tuesday evening.

Calhoun was one of Pennsylvania's most promising young boxers at the time of his enlistment in the army over three years ago. The Lee bout will be Ernie's first since his discharge from the service.

Other great fights are being arranged to complete York's first professional boxing show in several years.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, July 25 (AP)—Fitting little words together... after a two-day conference, athletic leaders of 20 college groups found that all they could do to curb "commercialism" was to adopt a carefully worded recommendation which said, in effect: "We're agin' it." Any action will have to be taken by the NCAA, which has no real power. The same day Michigan's Fritz Crisler predicted a 650,000 attendance for the Wolverines' seven home football games and strictly-amateur Princeton adopted an athletic budget calling for $259,169 expenditures and an approximate deficit of $24,000. Bill Cross, Oklahoma business manager, looks for 32,000 capacity crowds at all four home games next fall and other colleges expect new record gates. One thing the conference officials didn't explain in their public remarks was now to get sellout crowds without strong teams and how to get strong teams without beating the bushes. Most colleges can't afford those deficits.

HITTING THE BOTTOM

Willard Ramsdell, Fort Worth Cat's pitcher who boasts a batting average of .167, must have set a record of some sort last week when he made three hits in one game against Shreveport. After each hit, the opposing manager waved his pitcher to the clubhouse—which probably was a natural move. Chuckling as he sloshed around under the post-game shower, Willard said: "Ramsdell hits 'em and the manager waves 'em out."

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

Bill Heis, the oil man who went in for racing in a big way, expects to ship the first crop of yearlings from his Jobstown, N. J., horse nursery to the 1947 Saratoga sales. Mike Jacobs has some sort of precedent for the three championship fights he has scheduled for September. In the same month in 1939 he staged Galento-Nova in Philadelphia, Louis-Pastor in Detroit and Conn-Bettina in Pittsburgh. That's why they call it "fall."

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The Binghamton Triplets were in the Eastern league cellar today, after succumbing 15-4, to an old fashioned slugging display by the leading Scranton Miners.

The Williamsport Grays moved into seventh place by turning back the Albany Senators, 6-2. The Utica Blue Sox edged the Wilkes-Barre Barons, 3-2, in 11 innings, and the Elmira Pioneers defeated the Hartford Chiefs in a double header, 3-1, and 1-0.

Tonight's games: Wilkes-Barre at Utica (2); Scranton at Binghamton (2); Elmira at Hartford; Williamsport at Albany.

Ted Smits Is New

AP Sports Editor

New York, July 25 (AP)—Appointment of Ted Smits as general sports editor of the Associated Press, with headquarters in New York, was announced yesterday by Kent Cooper, executive director.

Smits leaves the post of chief of bureau at Detroit to undertake his new duties August 1. He joined the AP staff at Los Angeles in 1934 and has broad experience as a news writer and executive.

Smits succeeds Robert J. Cavagnaro, who resumes his work as executive representative, with headquarters in New York.

Taylor Rejects

Two Jacobs Offers

Altoona, Pa., July 25 (AP)—Chuck Taylor, rising young Coalport, Pa., welterweight, is not yet ready for Tony Janiro or Rocky Graziano, and an offer by Promoter Mike Jacobs for a match with either fighter in New York in August has been refused, Jack Laken, Taylor's manager, said here last night.

Laken said Jacobs had offered to match Taylor with Janiro August 6, or with Graziano August 16.

He said the offer would be reconsidered in January, when he expects Taylor to reach top fighting trim. Taylor, who has had 17 bouts since his discharge from the navy, won a 10-round decision over Tony Pellone in New York last Friday. He was here last night for an amateur boxing show.

DODGERS TAKE LEAGUE LEAD; 18 FOR FELLER

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Those who have started to count the Brooklyn Dodgers out of the National league pennant race because of their recent near-disastrous road trip, have done so without taking into account Brooklyn's amazing home record at Ebbets' Field where they still have 38 games to play this season.

Forced to share the National league's top berth with the St. Louis Cardinals for four days after leading the parade for more than two months, the Dodgers wasted little time upon their return home yesterday to regain undisputed possession of first place.

This they did by the simple medium of notching their 30th victory in 39 home games, 2-1 over the third place Chicago Cubs.

The New York Giants, nemesis of the Redbirds all season, showed the St. Louis aggregation one full game behind the Brooks when they beat the Cards for the 9th time in 14 meetings this season by a 3-1 score. In the American league, the pace-setting Boston Red Sox maintained their 11½-game margin over the runner-up New York Yankees by taking advantage of a pair of misuses to defeat the Chicago White Sox 4-1.

The Yankees kept pace with the Red Sox by coming from behind to defeat the St. Louis Browns, 5-3, under the lights at Sportman's park.

Cleveland's Bobby Feller kept up his 18th win and seventh shut-out of the campaign in pitching the Indians to a 1-0 triumph over Bob Savage and the Philadelphia Athletics.

Bobo Newsom, veteran Washington right-hander duplicated Feller's feat by outpitching Detroit's Dizzy Trout, 1-0.

The Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-0, and Cincinnati shaded the Boston Braves, 2-1.

COORDINATION OF WORK WITH CANCER SOUGHT

(Editor's note:—This is the second of two stories on the cancer problem and a Congressional proposal to do something about it.)

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 25 (AP)—There's a bill in Congress to have the government put up $100,000,000 to find the cause and cure of cancer. Nothing may happen. Congress is in a hurry to go home. It may not find time to consider the bill.

Briefly, here's the story: A good deal of cancer research is being done by specialists, by private hospitals and laboratories, and by the government's own research center, the National Cancer Institute just outside Washington.

Could Coordinate Work. The total money to be spent this year for cancer research by private sources and the government's cancer institute will be about $4,500,000. The institute's share roughly is $1,000,000.

(Some additional millions will be spent by private sources on cancer hospitalization, educating laymen and doctors on the problem, and training young specialists.)

If Congress voted the $100,000,000, the government could use the money for coordinating all the work being done in the field and starting new work—both in this country and in cooperation with other countries.

President Truman is authorized in the bill to start the program by calling upon the outstanding specialists of the world to throw all their efforts into the search for a cancer cure.

The money would not all be spent in one year. There's no time limit on when it could be spent. Probably, it would not be enough by itself to finish the job. More money might be needed later.

cancer problem, a Senate subcommittee which approved the bill said: "The total cost of medical care in any particular year for all sufferers from cancer would probably be around $600,000,000. The economic loss, one witness testified, would amount to as high as $900,000,000 a year."

Looking ahead at the work which needs to be done in the cancer field, the Senate subcommittee said:

"The committee does not know whether $100,000,000 will enable the scientists of the world to discover a means of curing and preventing cancer."

"But this amount may be big enough to permit the planning of a program for at least a few years. No one knows how much a successful fight on cancer will cost any more than he could have predicted the cost of the war or the atomic bomb."

It is estimated that there are about 65,000,000 ducks in North America.

Will Teach Music: Miss Mae Belle Heretier, Chambersburg street, has accepted the position as supervisor of music in the schools of Milroy for the coming school year. Miss Heretier, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Heretier, graduated from the Peabody Conservatory of Music, Baltimore, last month.

Gettysburg Post Office, Now Rated First Class, Was Established in 1875: The history of the Gettysburg post office, from the time it was established by federal act of February 25, 1875, until several months ago when it received official government rating as a first class post office, featured the outing and banquet of the employees of the local office at Graeffenburg Inn Thursday afternoon and evening, attended by employees and their ladies, former postmasters and other invited guests.

The history was given by Peter C. Stock, the oldest employee of the Gettysburg office in age. Mr. Stock will be placed on the pension list in 1927, the first worker in the Gettysburg office to be retired on pension since the establishment of the system about eight years ago. He was assisted in compiling the facts in connection with the local post office history by his nephew, Leo F. Stock, formerly of Gettysburg and now research assistant at Carnegie Institute at Washington, and associate professor of history at the Catholic University of America.

Today's Talk
QUIET — BEAUTY — MOVEMENT
For hours I have been looking out upon the many varieties of natural beauty. The floating clouds, ever changing in form and much in substance. For example, for a brief period some of these clouds got heavy, and so dripped their moisture to the thirsty earth. Then the sun shone and huge shadows patterned the distant fields, giving emphasis to the greens of the forest and the silvered ripples of the lake.

Everything about me in this peaceful spot — where for a few weeks I rest, read, write, roam the rocky shore, and walk the soft, mossy earth — is a lesson to me. There is movement everywhere — but these movements are quiet ones like the soft strains of a violin at nightfall. Medicine to the mind, to every organ of the body, and to the soul.

The city has small charm for me. I feel most at home where crowds are absent, and where there is no scramble for gain and position. Nature thrives. There are always natural replacements. There is no quarrelling, nor is there among the stars, which hold their position, each one important to itself.

I plucked a lady's slipper in the woods as exquisite as any hot-house orchid. There it was — alone among the huge forest of hemlocks. Had it but a voice, it would have uttered eloquence in terms of quiet, peace, and of the giving of its beauty 'all alone, though no man should have known or seen.

We become natural discoverers in nature. And our obedience, to natural laws uplifts us to higher ground. We are ourselves, without boast or show. Harmony is the highest note in nature. And the night's stillness is like a benediction. Nature's breath is pure everywhere, and it's life-lifting.

The shimmering of the early sunlight, its rays dodging among the green foliage, and its warmth drawing out growth everywhere, is an inspiring sight. Here the birds sing at dawn, as I do in my heart — for this is a little heaven, in which I search and find myself — as anyone can who has the will to search, as I did, for some secluded spot in which to learn to live.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Because It's Home."

SILENT SPEECH
There are so many forms of speech! The nose can pass a thought along. Just turn it up and it will screech. That something in the room is wrong.

What one is thinking, sneers portray. The sudden movement of a hand—Disgusts or pleasure's terms can say. In speech that all can understand.

The eyes have language of their own: With eloquence their words they phrase. The eyes make love and hatred known. Although the tongue in silence stays.

Words may be used for cunning lies. Not always are they chosen well. But shoulders, lips and hands and eyes Always and only truth will tell.

MENTAL HEALTH INSTITUTE WILL BE BUILT BY U.S.

(Editor's Note: This is the first of two stories explaining what the government has just done to fight mental disease.)

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, July 25 (AP)—The mentally sick will get a break, better than they've had.

The government will build—taking about two years to finish—a National Mental Health Institute.

The location: Just outside Washington, in Maryland. The cost: $7,500,000. The institute will be part of the U. S. Public Health service.

Its job:

1. Do its own research into the causes, diagnosis and treatment of mental illnesses. It will have a staff of specialists and receive volunteer patients.

2. Stimulate and coordinate the same kind of research around the country in hospitals and schools.
3. Give financial help to individuals, hospitals and schools working in this field and help states in their mental health programs.

The institute will have about $10,000,000 a year to spend on its work. The job is big.

600,000 Patients
Before Congress approved creation of the institute, committees of the House and Senate investigated the problem. The Senate committee on education and labor reported what follows:

There are 600,000 mental patients occupying hospital beds in this country, half of all the hospital beds available for all illnesses. Over 125,000 cases are admitted each year.

At any one time about 1,000,000 people are permanently disabled by mental illness and another 1,000,000 temporarily disabled.

The committee said: "It is estimated that 10,000,000 of the current population will require hospitalization for mental diseases at some time in their lives."

"About 6 per cent of the population—or 8,000,000 people—suffer from some form of mental illness."

Selective Service during the war disqualified 1,100,000 men from military service because of mental or nervous disorders.

Fifty per cent of all pensions paid by the Veterans Administration for disability are payable because of psychiatric disorders.

Warly Leaders Fall In Denver
Denver, July 25 (AP)—The headlines of the qualifying rounds all had wilted under the pressure of match play as the National Public Links Golf tournament—that unpredictable classic of the working class—moved dizzily into the third round today.

Medalist Jimmy Clark of Long Beach, Calif., who qualified with 134, lowest medal score ever shot in a U.S.G.A. tournament, was knocked out in his first match by Marshall Holt, a teammate he had always beaten easily on Long Beach's home courses.

Into the discard with Clark went the next six lowest medal shooters—Robert Silvestri of San Francisco; Ralph Hall of Oakland, Calif.; Buck Gann of Tulsa, Okla.; Tal Smith of Alameda, Calif.; Carl Dezer of Durham, N. C., and Jack Koenecker of Denver.

The defending champion, William Welch of Spokane, Wash., fell, too, before Rudolph Horvath, 23-year-old former Canadian Royal Air Force pilot from Windsor, Ont., who shot a two-under-par 69 for a 2-up triumph on Wellshire's tough municipal course.

Police Chiefs End Annual Convention
Pittsburgh, July 25 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Police Chiefs association chose Leo D. Coleman, acting head of Allegheny county detectives, as president during closing sessions of its thirty-third annual convention here yesterday.

Other officers include Lawrence Kendig, Plymouth, first vice president; Guy E. Parsons, Philadelphia, second vice president; Harvey Scott, superintendent of Pittsburgh police, third vice president; P. D. Titus, Lansdowne, secretary; John Goode, Williamsport, treasurer, and C. W. Rhoads, Northumberland, sergeant at arms.

Among those elected to the group's executive committee were George J. Christoph, of Erie; F. J. Eckhart, Wilkes-Barre; Samuel Gearhart, Ardmore, and Anthony Russo, of Bristol.

Open Commissary For 2,000 Strikers
Jeannette, Pa., July 25 (AP)—The CIO United Rubber workers announced opening of a co-op commissary here to help feed 2,000 men and women who have been on strike at the Pennsylvania Rubber Co. plant since June 20.

Food supplies, bought in bulk, are to be distributed to union members and their families Thursday, and Friday from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. by the strike committee of local 22. The International Union at Akron, O., is helping finance the project, a union spokesman said.

The population of French North Africa is about 16,000,000.

Saw Buddies Killed By Defective Shells

Meadville, Pa., July 25 (AP)—Two ex-soldiers told yesterday of seeing three soldiers killed and six others wounded by defective 4.2 mortar shells which exploded during the European campaign.

Former First Sgt. Harry E. Randall, a welder for Talon, Inc., said he saw two men killed and a third wounded as the 81st Chemical Mortar battalion supported the 90th Division the night of Nov. 16, 1944, in a German town across the Moselle river.

William G. Mays, a former First Division lieutenant, now a student at Allegheny college, told of one man being killed and five others wounded by a shell which exploded in Belgium in January, 1945, during the battle of the Bulge. He is a former resident of Bradford.

Both men made their statements in connection with the current Washington investigation which has brought out testimony that 4.2 mortar shells were faulty.

30,000 GATHER FOR VFW MEET

Philadelphia, July 25 (AP)—An estimated 30,000 members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of Pennsylvania—many wearing their service uniforms—gathered here today for the group's first postwar convention.

State Commander Nelson W. McClosky of York said the three-day affair—the veterans' 27th encampment—would attempt to solve the most pressing problems confronting GIs today.

Approximately 800 persons helped start the conclave at a pre-encampment banquet last night sponsored by the VFW and its ladies auxiliary.

Auxiliary President Mrs. Myrtle Beyer of McKeesport presided.

Speakers included Mayor Bernard Samuel of Philadelphia, National VFW commander Joseph Stack; Admiral Russel Stanley Berkeley, director of Civil Relations in the office of the Secretary of the navy, and Captain James E. Van Zandt, past national VFW commander and now director of personnel, navy department.

Jobs and housing for veterans are topics expected to be given priority at all meetings.

The convention's biggest feature is a parade Saturday. Approximately 15,000 will be in the line of March.

Inquest Today In Double Slayings

Norristown, Pa., July 25 (AP)—An inquest into the double slaying of 22-year-old Mrs. Helen Hanley and her escort, John R. Hoffman, 26, was slated today in Montgomery county courthouse as the woman's estranged husband, an ex-GI charged with the killings, remained delirious in a hospital here.

Kenneth W. Hanley, 25-year-old weaver, submitted meekly to arrest as he sipped a cup of coffee in his mother's home Tuesday — a week after shots riddled the parked car in which the two victims sat — mumbled again and again:

"When's Skip coming? Skip said she would be here." "Skip" was Hanley's nickname for his wife.

In his incoherent ramblings, Hanley insists he thinks his wife still lives. His attorney, James R. Calla, asserted "he doesn't even know where he is."

District Attorney Frederick B. Smilie said Hanley is still suffering from "his week's sojourn in the Six Boys' woods where he eluded a posse and bloodhounds for a week after the slaying."

No Antlerless Deer For Non-Residents
Harrisburg, July 25 (AP)—It will be "Pennsylvanians only" during the special hunting season for antlerless deer in six eastern Pennsylvania counties Dec. 9-14.

Exclusion of out-of-state hunters will give resident hunters full opportunity to take out the 31,000 permits which will be issued after Oct. 1 at a cost of $1 each.

Farmers, however, will be permitted to hunt the deer on their own farms or adjacent private lands without special permits. The area includes Schuylkill, Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming counties and parts of Carbon and Luzerne.

The four unwebbed toes of most wading birds permit them to perch well.

STATE TO FIGHT HOSPITAL PRICE

Harrisburg, July 25 (AP)—The state of Pennsylvania will oppose in the federal courts a move by the U. S. veterans administration to obtain by the Deshon hospital near Butler for $2,512,297, it was learned today.

An authoritative source said the state will resist receipt of the funds deposited by the VA in federal court in Pittsburgh on the grounds the federal government already had waived any option to buy the institution at that price.

Governor Martin told newsmen earlier this week that he did not think the $2,500,000 price was "very fair to Pennsylvania" and said he was ready to stand back of the value of $4,000,000 placed on the facility by state engineers.

The VA is seeking to buy the hospital under provision of the lease agreement between the commonwealth and the war department made at the start of World War Two giving it an option to buy at a price which took into account rentals paid to the state during the lease period.

The justice department was reported considering the question of whether the state can agree to sell any of its real estate without a specific act of the state legislature, and also whether a notice of waiver filed by the federal authorities last December terminated the option agreement.

OH SHAW!
New York, (AP)—The cry of "foul" was raised today over the selection of "breast of chicken" as the main dish for the Saturday Review of Literature's 90th anniversary birthday dinner in honor of George Bernard Shaw.

The dinner will be held tonight at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria.

Symon Gould, associate editor of the magazine American Vegetarian, declared that Shaw's "astounding longevity is due in no small measure to his abstinence from flesh, fish and fowl for a period of over 55 years."

In times of food scarcity, house rats devour the smaller, weaker members of their own species.

FIX TUITION FOR 'CENTERS'

Harrisburg, July 25 (AP)—The Commonwealth has set a statewide fee of $300 a year for veterans and high school graduates entering the emergency college center proposed by Governor Martin because of overcrowding at existing college and universities.

Dr. Robert M. Steele, state coordinator of the college program, said today half the fee will be payable in advance at the start of each semester to persons designated as finance agents at each of the local centers.

Under the plan, the centers will be established by area advisory committees composed of representatives of colleges and other schools with Oct. 1-15 the prospective opening date for the emergency institutions.

Dr. Steele said the committee at present is completing local surveys of the needs in each area to determine how many and where centers will be established.

The $300 figure, he said, will include all fees, such as those for laboratory work, and as far as ex-GIs are concerned, will be paid by the U. S. Veterans Administration. High school graduates will pay their own fees and also buy their own books and supplies.

A state-wide survey by the department of public instruction disclosed recently that as many as 27,000 prospective students will be unable to find accommodations at regular institutions.

to a perfectly working rod—and the cost is about one-fifth the price of the real rod.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

SAYS JUVENILE DELINQUENCY IS "LEVELING OFF"

Harrisburg, July 25 (AP)—A present leveling off in the wartime increase in juvenile delinquency in Pennsylvania with prospects of a new acceleration in the fall was seen today by Director E. Preston Sharp of the state bureau of community welfare.

Sharp said he based his views on the present populations of institutions caring for delinquents and his prediction of a gain in the fact that many youngsters will have exhausted wartime savings by the fall and weaker members of the group may turn to illegal means to get spending money.

At the same time, Sharp said there is no accurate data on the extent of delinquency because of the wide variation in what constitutes offenses as recognized by authorities in various communities.

"A boy may be picked up in one town for breaking a window while in another he can steal coal for some time before being arrested," he explained.

Cities Help At Home

Sharp called for greater community awareness on the part of parents and civic leaders in recognizing the cause of delinquency if progress is to be made in its elimination.

"If all the prominent men in any given city would say hello or speak a few words to every boy they meet, that would have an influence on delinquency in that community," he declared in an interview.

"Who knows, some boy may get the very attention that way that he would strive for in committing some illegal act."

Sharp said in his experience in institutions and with the state welfare department delinquents fall into five groups:

1. The accidental offender who gets mixed up with a group of boys who may steal an automobile or do something similar for excitement.

2. The orphan child or one born out of wedlock who because of a lack of home life feels "kicked around and sore at everybody."

3. The gang groups of large urban areas which boys join for self protection from other gangs.

4. The physically impaired child who feels he has to do something unusual to attract attention.

5. The psychopathic child whom he described "as the most dangerous criminal in the United States" because they feel no emotion, no remorse and will strike at anything or anyone that stands between them and what they want.

OUT FOR CONGRESS

Pottsville, Pa., July 25 (AP)—Ralph M. Basehore, former state Secretary of Labor and Industry, will be the democratic candidate for congress from the 12th district (Schuylkill and Northumberland counties), opposing incumbent Ivor D. Fenton. Basehore was selected after William J. Davis, Frackville, who was nominated at the May primary, declined to run.

OPA MAY CUT MILK PRICES

Harrisburg, July 25 (AP)—If a revived OPA rolls back prices to June 30 levels, Pennsylvania's milk bill also will see a reduction despite the minimum price schedules recently established by the state milk control commission.

That's the opinion today of a justice department spokesman who said the question was settled by the courts under the old OPA "and what was true then is still true."

"The constitution has not been changed," he added. Milk Commissioner John J. Snyder confirmed that the commission will be found "by judicial interpretations of the attorney general."

should the restored federal agency set milk ceilings after August 20 which are lower than those promulgated by the commission, effective July 22.

Congress has passed legislation which would give OPA automatic authority to restore ceilings on

Governor Talks At VFW Conclave

Philadelphia, July 25 (AP)—Governor Edward Martin told Pennsylvania members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars today that "communism, socialism and regimentation do not belong in America."

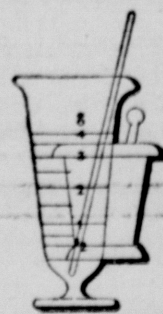

"They will never take hold here if veterans do their duty," the Commonwealth's chief executive said in a speech prepared for delivery at the 27th annual Keystone State Encampment of the VFW.

"Let us remain free from dictators and too much government," said Martin in a speech in which he traced the growth of the United

Without Painful Backache
Many suffer a nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smearing and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

SHORTAGE OF FREIGHT CARS ACUTE IN U.S.

New York, July 25 (AP)—Lack of ample freight-carrying space threatened today to clamp an undereared but nonetheless rigid ceiling on the nation's productive effort.

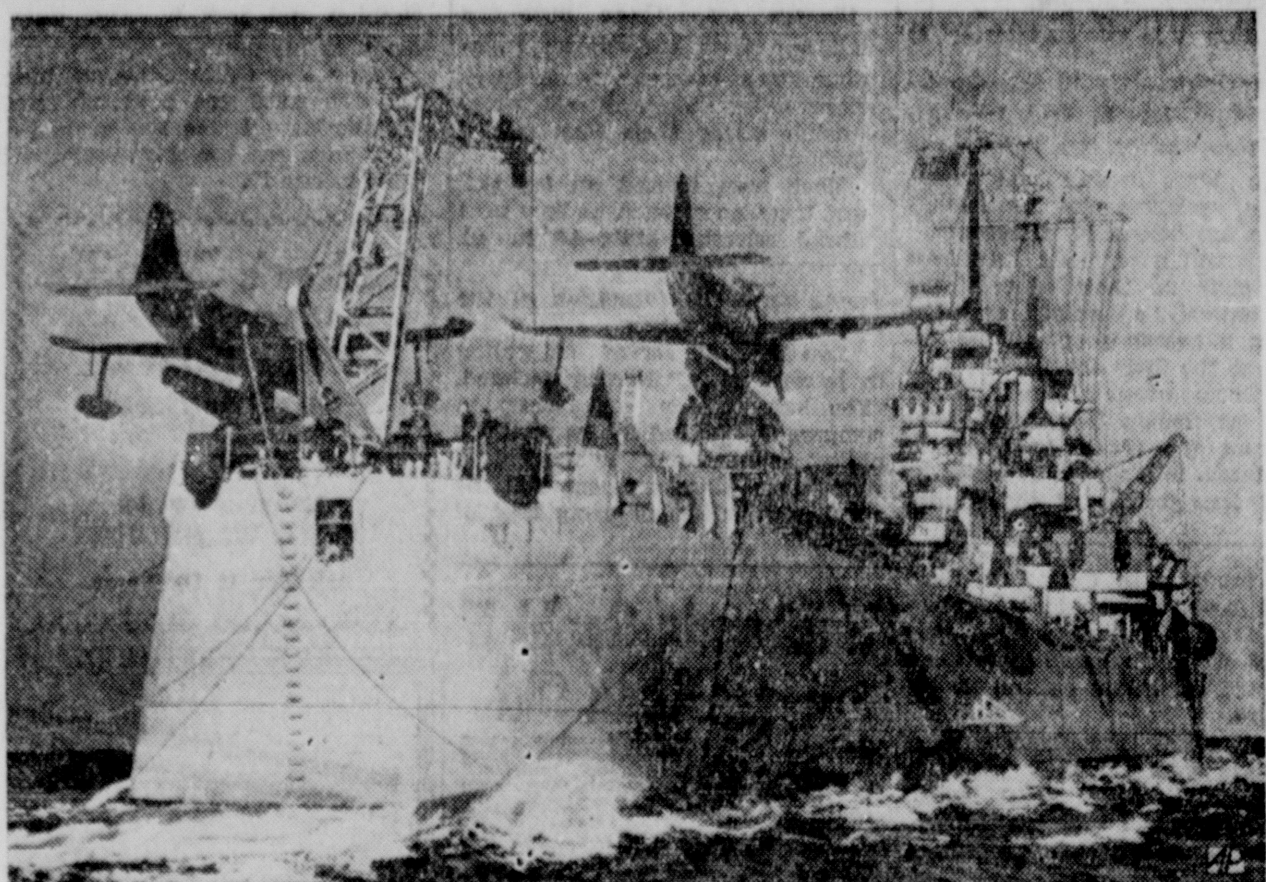

Why produce more goods than you can expect to ship? was a question already confronting some industries.

The shortage of freight cars was acute there were reports in railroad circles that the Office of Defense Transportation would recommend further steps to speed deliveries of new units.

One proposal discussed was for the reconstruction Finance Corp. to finance purchase of 50,000 cars for use to the carriers, with priorities scarce materials for quick construction.

Individual railroads already have some 40,000 freight cars on order.

The car building industry points to a drop from 2,814 deliveries in May to 2,094 in June as emphasizing a need for assistance in obtaining materials, principally steel and lumber.

STATE'S OLDEST DOCTOR EXPIRES

Washington, Pa., July 25 (AP)—Dr. George Brown Woods, who began his career on horseback more than 70 years ago and later was the first physician to use an automobile in this Washington county community, died at his home here yesterday at the age of 95.

He had continued to work into the last year of his life and reportedly was the oldest practicing physician in Pennsylvania. He would have been 96 on Sept. 7.

One of the proudest boasts of the distinguished looking physician who weighed but 120 pounds was that he had safely brought 1,200 babies into the world.

"I never lost a mother—but I had to work to save the fathers on more than one occasion," he once quipped.

empty on their way west. Efforts to have the railroads halt them long enough to load them for a destination in the same general direction have been fruitless."

Inter State League

(By The Associated Press)

Wilmington stretched its Interstate league lead to 11 games last night by registering two wins over last-place York, 5-2 and 2-0.

Hagerstown advanced to a third-place tie with Sunbury by sweeping a twin bill from Allentown, 9-7 and 8-3, while the Yankees were winning a single contest against Trenton, 10 to 1.

In the only other contest Harrisburg defeated Lancaster 4 to 2.

Tonight's schedule: Hagerstown at Allentown; Harrisburg at Sunbury; Wilmington at York; Trenton at Lancaster.

Pittsburgh, July 25 (AP)—Lewis Perry, 9, decided to go boating in a dishpan on the waters of Dunkard creek near his Bobtown, Pa. home yesterday. The pan filled with water and he drowned in five feet of water.

A native of Rogersville, Greene county, Dr. Woods first practiced at West Finley, Washington county.

"In those early days we knew nothing of antiseptics but I always insisted on absolute cleanliness in everything," he said.

Conductor Burns In Caboose Blaze

Ripley, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—One man was burned to death and three were injured about midnight last night when an incoming freight train rammed a standing freight about a mile east of here on a siding of the Nickel Plate railroad, state police at Westfield said today.

Six freight cars of the standing freight were derailed and overturned, and the locomotive of the incoming train was smashed. Trains were westbound, police said.

The state police barracks identified the dead man as John P. Lynch, 60, of Conneaut, Ohio, conductor of the standing freight. He was fatally burned when the caboose of his train was tipped over and set afire, police said.

The injured, taken to Westfield Memorial hospital were Walter W. Wheeler, 54; Lloyd Shellito, 28, and Earl L. Sanford, 56, all of Conneaut. Shellito and Sanford were listed as brakemen and Wheeler as conductor of the incoming train.

There are about 1,900 varieties of milkweed in the world.

OLD TIMERS IN CONGRESS ARE LOSING SEATS

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The sudden rise in primary defeats of House incumbents may or may not be indicative of a trend to "kick the ins out."

But it has piled up evidence that many of the old-timers in Congress are on the political skids.

The average service of the 11 representatives and five senators who have failed in renomination attempts so far is nearly 12 years.

Two senators—Burton K. Wheeler, Montana Democrat, and Henrik Shipstead, Minnesota Republican—lost primary battles while in their 24th year in the Senate.

Served 28 Years

One representative—Zebulon Weaver, North Carolina Democrat—was in his 28th year when he lost. Two others—Malcolm Tarver, Georgia—and Jed Johnson, Oklahoma, both Democrats—were serving out their 20th year.

Only two—Senator Charles C. Gossett, Idaho Democrat, and Rep. Helen Douglas Mankin, Georgia Democrat—were in their first year.

Mrs. Mankin is contesting her primary election defeat on the ground that she had a popular majority. Her opponent claims the election on the basis of county unit votes.

Thus far—with 17 states yet to hold nominating elections and conventions—10 Democrats and one Republican in the House have lost re-

POKER STICK UP

Philadelphia, July 25 (AP)—Three masked men carrying pistols held up a poker game in a private home a block from a police station early Wed., escaping with $2,745 and $1,230 in watches and diamond rings. The trio forced Murry Krieger and his nine guests to shed their trousers for a search of pockets and wallets. Then they yanked knots in each of the trousers and ripped the telephone from the wall to prevent pursuit or notification of police.

CANDIDATE

Bradford, Pa., July 25—Albert A. Griffen, Bradford attorney, has been named a Democratic candidate for assemblyman from McKean county in the November election. He replaces Clarence Master, of Bradford, who withdrew.

nomination attempts. Three Democratic and two Republican senators have been turned down.

7 In 2 States Out

Georgia with four and Oklahoma with three provided seven of the House defeats in the last eight days. The lone Republican incumbent who lost was a fourth-term from Pennsylvania, Robert L. Rodgers, of Erie.

So far as the House defeats are concerned, Democratic and Republican party officers commented today that they saw no particular significance in them. It was more or less a question of "personalities," they said.

In 1944 there were only 13 primary defeats for House incumbents prior to the November elections—nine Democrats and four Republicans. Since 17 states have yet to pick candidates, it is almost certain this number will be exceeded.

You Can't Fool The Youngsters

Kittanning, Pa., July 25 (AP)—W. S. Brotzman, who for 40 years predicted the weather in western Pennsylvania with complicated instruments and weather maps, now foretells rain if the corn on the toe of his left foot hurts.

Like many another man of the soil, the retired weather forecaster has fallen back on the folklore of his farmer forefathers.

If his cow goes to the far end of the field with her tail to the windward, he says it means "rain—and no fooling!"

A target of irate farmers for years, Brotzman now gripes about the weather with the best of them.

"Look at those apple trees," he grumbled as he sat on the porch of his farm near here. "Not a single bit of fruit will show on them and it's all the fault of the weather."

"I was cursed by farmers for years after radio came in and they could hear reports on weather," he said. "But we can't be miracle men even with our maps. I can usually feel a storm coming by the air pressure or a twitch in my bones."

"G'wan," chimed in Esther, an 11-year-old daughter. "The only time he knows it's gonna rain is when he hears the thunder!"

AVERT STRIKE

Sharon, Pa., July 25 (AP)—A threatened strike by 50 Public Works employees in this Mercer county community was averted yesterday when city council granted a 10 percent wage increase to all municipal workers. Under the new scale, laborers will receive 95 cents an hour,

Los Angeles, (AP)—The city council here has decided the "fad of semi-nudity" on the streets is none of its business.

CAR FINANCE SWINDLING IS BEING PROBED

Pittsburgh, July 25 (AP)—Rates as high as 116 per cent have been charged on short term financing of used automobiles, a legislative committee was told by witnesses here yesterday.

The witnesses, many of them war veterans, told of mysterious and excessive finance charges on automobiles they bought of their return from service of attempts to refinance at lower rates which got them only small rebates on their original interest charges, and one instance of a car without an engine number.

Chairman Franklin H. Lichtenwalter and Vice Chairman John M. Walker presided at the hearing, third of a series being held throughout the state.

James P. Heriot, a navy veteran, told the committee he had never received a book or statement from the finance company, or a license plate or certificate of title. On a balance of $707.25 which remained after his original payment of $374.75, he said, the finance and insurance charges were more than $200.

Charge 294 Per Cent

Phillip Jurant testified he wanted to pay off finance charges on his car in 12 installments, but that the finance company held it to 15. When he did pay it off, he said, his rebate was only $16 whereas it should have been $56.

Several witnesses said the cars they bought broke down quickly and required extensive repairs.

The 116 per cent interest rate was figured by Chairman Lichtenwalter in the case of Edward Boyer or McKersport, who said he had used $280 of the finance company's money for only 30 days and was charged $38.40. Representative Lichtenwalter said a similar case in Philadelphia had netted the finance company 294 per cent on its money.

R. J. Eberhart, branch manager of the Associates Discount Corporation of South Bend, Ind., appeared before the committee after a threat of subpoena had been made and the legislative group had agreed to suspend his firm's right to operate in Pennsylvania until it cooperated with the committee. He said records concerning cases involved were not immediately available and Senator Walker told him the committee would "expect to have an explanation" at a later meeting.

The committee disclosed that 15 of the 22 complaints contained on its list dealt with the Associates Discount Corporation.

THE WINNER A RINGER

Peacedale, R. I. (AP)—There was some growling and a few catcalls at the blue ribbon winner of the neighborhood guild's pet show. Passing scrubbed pups and trimmed kittens, judges gave the "most unusual pet" award to a 14-month-old boy, Billy Bouchard. Billy was the entry of his cousin, Betty Gadow.

NO NEW OFFER

Pittsburgh, July 25 (AP)—Albert Wilson, president of the Mon Valley Bus Co., declared today his company had "no new offer to make" following rejection by 78 of 102 striking drivers and mechanics of settlement terms proposed by union and company officials.

Someone To Believe In

By Helen R. Woodward

Chapter 8

It was easy singing with the orchestra after Greer got into its rhythm. Buzzy Barton was a cheerful youngster who had always admired Greer and considered himself extremely lucky to have her singing with his outfit.

"Who would ever have thought that night you sang here that you'd take it on as a permanent job?" he began, then seeing the shadow, hurt look in her eyes, he had remembered that the night of which he spoke had been one of tragedy for Greer.

"Forgive me," he cried in quick contrition. "I'm a blundering fool! But I'd like to be your friend."

And so he was, trying in every way to be helpful and kind. Showing her little tricks of putting a song over, helping her over strange rough spots.

The other men in the orchestra followed suit, but not so the fiery little dancer who was billed as "Morica, the Mexican Whirlwind!" From the first the small, dark, flashing-eyed, agile girl had resented and hated Greer. "She thinks she's doing us a favor by mingling with us!" she raged. "Who does she think she is?"

Rocky had silenced Morica sharply, thereby increasing her dislike of Greer. For Morica wanted everybody to believe that Rocky Alverson was her own private property. She entirely forgot the accent she affected in the raging torrent of words she poured out to Nicholas at the cigar counter, who seemed to be her special confidant.

Buzzy laughed at her outburst and explained to the worried Greer, "Don't let Morica get you down. She's money all the way through. The little hell-cat never saw Mexico. Rocky brought her down from the slums of Chicago where he knew her as a kid! He remembered how she used to pretend she was a Spanish señorita and dance in the street!"

But somehow Greer sensed that there was nothing phony about Morica's love for Rocky! In the meantime she was moving from her Aunt Harriet's to a small kitchenette apartment of her own. Both Harriet and Isobel tried to dissuade her from going, saying that there was plenty of room in their home and that they enjoyed her company. Indeed it was Isobel's small distressed face that took a little of the joy from what really was an exciting adventure. To be sure the room she had was only a third-floor back on a rather shabby street; the kitchenette was hardly more than a well-stocked cubicle, the tiny bath had no outside window. But the thought that it was all her own, paid for by money she earned herself, was a thrill she had never experienced before. It was fun putting out her own things—the beloved familiar photographs, the treasured lamps and vases; adding warmth and color to the drab room with bright chintzes, draping the studio couch with the handsome woven afghan that was Harriet's contribution. Isobel helped her get straightened up and when she had stocked her small shelves with staples and kindled a bright fire in the little grate, she felt warmed and cheered and happier than she had been in weeks.

Greer saw Isobel off, the girl's face reproaching her for not having asked her to dinner. But somehow Greer wanted this first evening in her new home to herself, to adjust herself to her surroundings. A close bond of affection had developed between the cousins and Greer saved her conscience by inviting Isobel to come to her whenever she felt the least bit lonely.

She opened a card table before the crackling fire—almost superfluous as the season advanced, but somehow increasing the pleasure she felt—covered the table with a gay cloth, prepared a salad, a sandwich and a cup of tea—and dined in solitary state, feeling secure and independent and eminently self-satisfied at the moment.

She sat there until late thinking of the strange way fate has of changing our lives for us without warning. It was odd how much at home she felt in this room, surrounded by treasures from her girlhood, and much closer to her father and mother—than had been possible since the big house had become a strange abode of fear and distrust.

The week of her training passed quickly enough. Jeff Mansfield called her one night and suggested a movie. Afterward they drank sodas at the corner drug store and Jeff kept up a running chatter of his famous nonsense. But underneath she sensed his concern for her welfare, so that to prove him she was quite all right she invited him up to the apartment. He looked around, sighed and sank into a big chintz-covered chair.

"It's pretty swell all right," he admitted, "lacking only the presence of a man to make it perfect. And here before you, my darling Greer, you see an eager, hopeful candidate." He was on his feet beside her, his hands on her arms. "I don't like this business of your singing for Rocky Alverson a little bit, Greer! I think it is stupid and senseless—and you know it is unnecessary. You turned me down alone because you expected to marry Arnie Hewitt. I'm not asking you why the marriage hasn't come off, but I think I'm smart enough to guess the reason!" She flushed and he went on quickly "Arnie was always a fool of the deepest dye. I love you, Greer—marry me and let me take care of you!"

Greer sighed and shook her head wearily. "Oh, Jeff—how can I explain—?" "Don't try. Just think it over. Meantime—you won't mind my dropping around, will you?" "I'd miss you terribly if you didn't Jeff."

And then, almost before she knew it, it was time for her debut at the Melody Club.

six. One special underneath spraying device was shown in which a long arm extending under the trees was employed. Single and double tunnel speed sprayers and a liquid, dust, spray or combination duster were also displayed.

The afternoon session followed a meeting Wednesday morning at the Arendtsville fair grounds where Miles Horst, state secretary of agriculture; Frederic E. Griest, Flora Dale, president of the state horticultural association; Dr. Fred Linger, director of agricultural research at State College and Dr. L. E. Jackson, dean of State college, were speakers.

Robert C. Lott, president of the county fruit growers association, acted as master of ceremonies.

Demonstrate Rigs

Earlier Wednesday morning at the fair grounds a demonstration of the use of various sizes of disks and hose lengths on spray rigs was shown. Following his discussion of the various uses of the rigs J. O. Pepper, of the extension staff, urged growers not to use "any longer length of hose than is absolutely necessary because the friction of the spray passing through the hose cuts down the pressure.

"The county is in a critical stage on coding moth at present and personally I'm a little discouraged," Pepper said. "In some orchards 20 to 30 wormy apples were found under a single tree. If you can find five wormy apples under a tree you can be sure of an infestation by second generation coding moth, which is coming out at present. We've got to fight the coding moth because processors are going to say more and more 'no wormy apples'."

The lowest recorded death rate for any country was that for New Zealand in 1932 and 1933, with 8 per 1,000 population.

SIAM'S ROYAL PALACE—The slender-spired royal palace of the new King Phum-phon Aduldet in Bangkok. Siam, is partly modern and partly Siamese in design.

Negro Murders Woman, Attacks And Shoots Her Daughter, 26

Flower Hill, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Nassau county police combed heavily-wooded areas of Long Island's exclusive north shore today for a six-foot, "stareyed" negro who shot and killed a 52-year-old society matron and then assaulted and wounded her daughter.

Shocked residents of this fashionable community joined officers and detectives of the county's six police precincts, patrolled the deserted roads surrounding the territory, while police cars were parked at every important intersection.

Victims of the assault were Mrs. Marjory Church Logan, wife of a retired banker and former War Production Board official, and her daughter, Marjory Jeanne, 26, New York Junior leaguer, recently discharged from the War as a sergeant.

Girl Is Critical
Miss Logan, who was shot in the face and neck, is in Nassau hospital at Mineola, where the bullets were removed. Police described her condition as critical.

At the hospital yesterday Miss Logan gave Nassau county Police Detective George Hutchinson the following account of the slaying:

She was in her bedroom shortly before 11 a. m. Mrs. Logan was downstairs. The only other person in the house was Mrs. Suzanne Delebar, a maid who was sewing in a different section of the sprawling home.

"I could hear my mother talking to someone," Hutchinson quoted Miss Logan as saying. "And presently she called upstairs: 'Jeanne will you throw me down $10? I want to pay a debt.'"

"I went to my purse, where I had about $100 and got out a $10 bill. I folded it up and went out and threw it down over the banister to my mother. I could just see her in the light of the hallway. I couldn't see the man."

Heard Mother Fall
"I turned to go back to my room when I heard a shot. My mother gasped and I heard her body fall. I turned and this man came running up the stairs. He had a shiny nickel-plated gun in his hand. He said, 'Gimme that money.' I had my purse in my hand, and I gave it to him."

Then, pointing in the direction of her father's bedroom, he said: "Go in there and take off your clothes."

Miss Logan walked into the room with the man following closely and removed her clothes except for an army fatigue jacket.

After attacking her the man fired at her face. The bullet entered her jaw between her nose and left ear.

"I didn't lose consciousness," she told Hutchinson. "I tried to get up, turning slowly on the bed for support. He fired again. (The bullet struck her in the back of the neck.) Then he ran. I could hear him going down the front stairs."

Runs For Help
Putting on some undergarments, Miss Logan ran screaming to a neighbor's home but when the maid there failed to answer she rushed to another home where painters were working and to whom Miss Logan told the story of the attack.

One of the painters, Theodore Klick, helped her into his car and took her to the office of Dr. Joseph Teta at nearby Port Washington. En route, Miss Logan suddenly screamed:

"There he is, there he is. That's the man who murdered my mother." Miss Logan cringed on the floor of the car so that the man, who was walking toward Port Washington, could not see her. She told Klick not to stop since the man was armed. That was the last seen of the man as he vanished into the heavy woods.

Found Unconscious
Police who were summoned by the other painters found Mrs. Logan unconscious on the floor. Police Captain Theodore Blunt said she "was trying to make noises." An instant later she died.

Mrs. Logan was the wife of William John Logan, baking soda firm executive and retired vice president of the Central Hanover Bank and

Mount Saint Mary's College Preparing For Record Enrollment Next Fall

MOST OF 600 STUDENTS ARE EX-SERVICEMEN

Mt. St. Mary's college at Emmitsburg is preparing to handle the largest student body in its history when the fall term opens on Monday, September 16.

College officials said enrollment closed more than six weeks ago with 600 young men scheduled to matriculate with the opening of the fall term.

95 Per Cent Are Veterans
A college official estimated today that "95 per cent" of the students will be men who served in the armed forces during World War II.

Normal enrollment figures at The Mount before the war fluctuated between 400 and 450. During much of the World War II period the Mount helped train men for the navy under several navy "V" programs that ended last November and left the school with a student body of about 50 men from November until April.

Dormitory facilities on the campus can accommodate a maximum of 535 students so that college officials turned to the federal housing authorities for aid. Recently word was received at the college that Mt. St. Mary's college had been granted "50 housing units" but no further information was given as to the type to be sent.

A federal housing official was expected at the college today to go over with the Mount officials the housing problem. The location of the quonset huts, trailers or barracks, or whatever type of housing units are to be allotted, will be one of the questions to be decided. The type of housing to be provided will influence the selection of the site for the temporary student quarters.

No curriculum changes will be introduced, a college announcement stated, but the faculty has been expanded by the addition of 12 instructors in various departments to help handle the influx of students. No list of the new mentors was available today.

The college calendar for the coming year calls for the formal opening September 16. The Christmas holidays will extend from December 20 to January 5 and the second semester will begin February 5. Graduation will be held next June 18.

St. Joseph's Annual Picnic On August 3

The Annual St. Joseph's Catholic picnic will be held in the St. Joseph's church grove, Emmitsburg, Saturday, August 3, from 4 p. m. until midnight. Country chicken dinners will be served from 4 p. m. to 8 p. m. Entertainment, games, and attractions for all have been arranged.

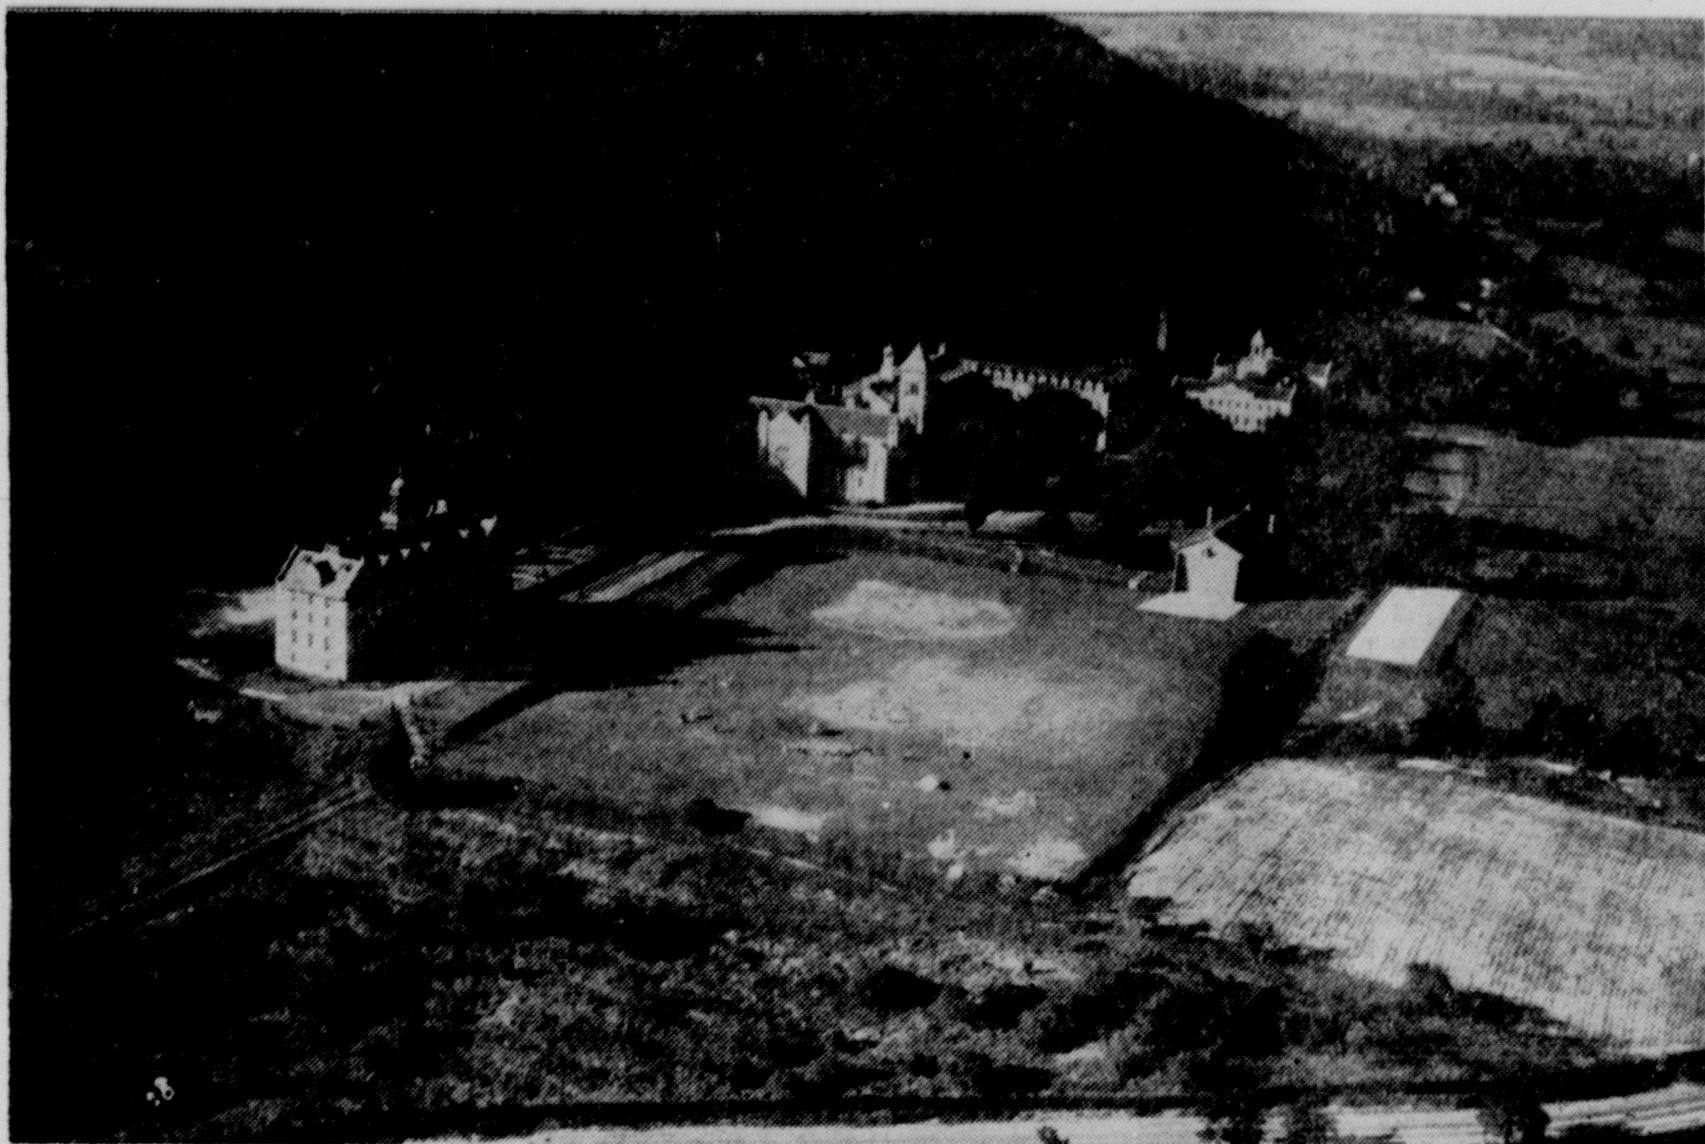

Mr. and Mrs. Pius Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Kovak and daughter and Cletus Costlow, all of Newry, Pa., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly and Mrs. Marie Rosensteel, Depaul street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burket, Detroit, Mich., spent several days recently with Mr. Burket's uncle, Peter Burket, East Main street. This is the first visit to Emmitsburg by the Burkets in thirty years.

Mrs. Marshall Eyster, Toledo, Ohio, and daughter, Lt. Marica Eyster, of Washington, D. C., spent the week-end visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Zacharias, West Main street.

Theron F. Boob, of Millinburg, Pa., R. D. 1, and Nita M. Herberster of Laurelton, Pa., were united in marriage Saturday, July 24 in the Elias Lutheran church, Emmitsburg, by the pastor, the Rev. Philip Bower.

Mt. St. Mary's Campus As Seen From The Air

An airplane view of Mount Saint Mary's college as it is today shows the wide campus which will soon be filled with a number of other buildings under a new $500,000 construction program planned for the Mount.

To the left is the seminary building to which an annex will be added. In the center are the chapel and present college buildings. To the right is the present gymnasium which will be replaced by a more modern structure under the building program.

Mt. St. Mary's Alumni Raise Half Million For 3 New College Buildings

Alumni of Mt. St. Mary's college have raised $500,000 to begin the construction of a number of new buildings at the Emmitsburg college but the lack of building materials has postponed until some future date the start of construction, a college official said today.

Original plans were for the building program to begin this June in connection with a huge alumni reunion celebration but the lack of materials forced postponement. What materials were available went into renovation of several dormitory floors this summer in preparation for the increased enrollment of students for the fall session. Work on the dormitory renovation will be completed by August.

One of the new structures planned when the construction program begins is a science building to replace the present three laboratories and rooms used in science instruction.

Gym To Be First
The new stone, two story science building will permit for the first time in Mount history complete coordination of all science facilities and the integration of the present three science laboratories. The first floor of the new building will contain laboratories and lecture rooms for physics and biology, an equipment room, an office for the faculty and the science library. The second floor will contain double laboratories for chemistry, a lecture room, balance room, stock room and office. The building will face the gymnasium and Echo field from the opposite side of the main road into the Mount.

One of the first buildings to be started in the construction program will be a new gymnasium, according to Mt. St. Mary's plans. The new stone structure will replace the present small gymnasium at the school. The new building will have a basketball court, swimming pool, bowling alleys, increased locker room and shower facilities and a lounge.

Another improvement scheduled to be among the first made is the addition of an annex to the seminary to provide more space for the men studying for the priesthood at the Mount. The seminary project consists of an addition to the south wing of the present structure which will provide for a new dining room and serving kitchen on the ground floor. Nine new rooms together with bathrooms are planned for each of the four upper floors in the new wing. The chapel will also be completely redecorated and extended and a liturgical altar will be installed and new stained glass windows and new pews will be placed in the chapel.

The Jacob Rohrbach Memorial Library is another new structure scheduled for the building program. The building will harmonize with the several styles of architecture on the campus, ranging from the Romanesque chapel to the early colonial adaptation of several of the older buildings on the campus. As with all other buildings at the Mount, the library will be of native stone. The structure will

Emmitsburg's Newest Store Opens Tuesday

Emmitsburg's newest store will open Tuesday in the former Harner store building on East Main street, it was announced today by the probably be located on the northern end of the campus northeast of the administration building, according to present plans.

Sound and Fire Proof
Replacing the present library housed in one of the main buildings of the college, the new structure will be completely fire proof, insulated, waterproofed and noise-proofed.

The entrance lobby will have two coat rooms on either side of the door and in the center will be a desk from which the attendant will have complete control of the reading and periodical rooms. The partition between these rooms and the lobby will be of glass. The main reading room is to be soundproofed and will measure thirty-four by fifty feet and have a high beamed ceiling. The walls will be paneled with wood up to the top of the bookshelves which surround the room. One end of the periodical room will be partitioned off to be used for the display of rare books.

Immediately behind the lobby will be the stack rooms built in three tiers with a capacity of 36,000 books and with easily extended facilities for additional books. Adjoining the stack rooms will be the librarian's office work room and a lift to carry the books from the basement. All floors, with the exception of the lobby will be concrete covered with linoleum. The lobby floor will be terrazzo.

The lower floor of the library will contain a receiving room with space for packing and unpacking books, a large vault for rare and expensive books, manuscripts and the like and more book shelves. Mechanical ventilation will be provided to guard against condensation during humid weather.

News Of Special Interest To The Residents Of Emmitsburg And Vicinity

WIFE OF MOUNT ALUMNUS SETS U.S. PRECEDENT

The wife of a Mt. St. Mary's college alumnus, Major John F. Waldron, was the first Russian wife of an American serviceman to obtain a visa in war time to the United States. The former Mme. Tatyana Ivanovna Ostapenko was the subject of an interview upon her arrival in New York from Russia.

The interview followed:

Completely unimpressed by her own social significance as the first Russian wife of an American serviceman to obtain a visa in war time to the United States, Tatyana Ivanovna Ostapenko Waldron announced over a noon-hour cocktail last week, "I love it."

The comely 23-year-old former actress-singer sat on the bed in her room at the Hotel New Yorker, swinging a slender patent-leather-sandaled foot and adjusting a gardenia in her long, blond hair. Her husband, Major John F. Waldron of the Army Medical corps, who acted as her interpreter and perhaps her censor during the interview, explained that his wife's statement applied to everything and anything she had encountered during her first 10 days in America, ranging from his home in South Orange, N. J., to the Stork club. She arrived after a 32-day voyage to this country with 16 other wives of men stationed in the Persian Gulf Command and 1,500 home-coming troops.

Busy and Excited

"I have been too busy and excited to form any impression of America," she said. "It seems to me," she continued, "American girls have so much of everything they have nothing to dream about. In Russia we have very little, but our dreams are wonderful."

"Americans think all Russian women have muscles and are six feet tall," the major said, glancing fondly at his wife. "They don't all look like peasants." There are, he admitted, many more at home like her—home being Moscow. "Seventeen other American officers in our group were easier than the British, who married 28."

Mrs. Waldron was a song-and-dance student at the Kimo Institute, a training school for film actresses, when she met the major who was lend-lease medical supply adviser to the United States Military Mission and whose Russian vocabulary was limited to the "What beautiful green eyes you have!" he used as an introduction.

"I was too young to do anything political. I just wanted to be an actress," Mrs. Waldron said.

Soon nurses were more essential than actresses, and after six weeks' training Mrs. Waldron was sent to the Smolensk front as a nurse. "I was too young to be afraid," she said. After a few months actresses regained their importance as morale builders and she was again sent to the front with an entertainment troupe.

Taught Songs to Soldiers

"Our job," she said, "was not so much to entertain the soldiers as to teach them the words and music of the latest songs from home. Red Army men and Russian Wacs love to sing and dance."

Mrs. Waldron left the entertainment troupe early in 1944, just before their son was born. She received her visa after the major, who had been transferred to the Persian Gulf Command, had told the right people, "Dammit, my son's an American citizen and my wife's an American citizen, and you've got to get them to America."

Mrs. Waldron plans to do some shopping in New York before they go on to the major's new station at Fort Lewis, Wash. "I don't understand the money, so I cannot tell what I am paying," she said, "but I love it."

The major added, as he translated this sentence, "Maybe I'll make her learn English."

Boy Scouts To Go Camping In August

At the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Boy Scouts held in the firemen's hall Tuesday evening plans were made for a two weeks' camping at Weishaars, near Fairfield, the first and second week in August.

To raise funds for the outing the boys are conducting a contest for six pairs of nylon hose. Twenty-five of the twenty-eight members were present. Jack Rosensteel is the Scoutmaster and William and Eugene Rodgers are assistant scout leaders. The scouts are sponsored by the local Lions club.

SCOUTS VISIT CAPITAL CITY

Twenty-five members of Girl Scout Troop No. 1 of Emmitsburg and their leaders took part Thursday in an educational sightseeing tour of Washington.

The group stopped first at the Capitol and took a guided trip through the building including a visit to the House of Representatives while the House was in session. The troop also visited the Whispering room and hall of fame and the dome of the capitol. A trip on the underground railway there completed the tour of the structure.

The National Museum, Washington monument, Arlington national cemetery, the tomb of the unknown soldier, General Lee's house and Mt. Vernon were also high spots on the trip. The scouts also visited the Smithsonian institute, the Bureau of Engraving, Aquarium, Congressional library and the zoo.

Those taking the trip included Janet Adams, Loretta Boyle, Betty Hardman, Sue Hays, Betty Hollinger, Lois Keilholtz, Caroline McDonnell, Peninah McNair, Doris Olinger, Peggy Strader, Dian Shuff, Sue Stinson, Patsy Tressler, Doris Wastler, Shirley Troxell, Nancy Wachter, Peggy Wachter, Helen Bushman, Jean Tate, Louise Jordan, Ann Mullen, Mary Hahn, Peggy Paxton, Patricia Fitzgerald, and Dorothy Fitzgerald.

Troop committee chairmen are Mrs. J. T. Hays and Mrs. Mervin Tate. Troop leaders included Miss Leanna Franklin, Miss Harriet Stinson, Miss Betty Fitzgerald and Miss Peggy Hays.

Mrs. J. J. Dillon, near Mt. St. Mary's college.

"Please make it brief!"

What's the verdict on your family's party line telephone manners?

Do they make calls brief?

Do they avoid making a series of calls one after another?

Do they answer promptly?

Have your children learned not to monopolize the line?

Good-neighborliness on the party line is catching—the more you remember it, the more other people will.

CONTRACT TALK STARTS TODAY

By JOE REICHLER

New York, July 25 (AP)—A lengthy tussle between major league players and owners was envisioned today as representatives of 480-odd big league performers were receiving final instructions from their teammates for Monday's history-making baseball contract sessions with the presidents of the two major circuits.

Already representatives of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Philadelphia Phillies of the National league and the Cleveland Indians of the American league were armed with programs to present at next week's meeting with instructions to carry them into the players-owners meeting next month in New York. In addition, a pension plan, drafted by Marty Marion, Sterling shortstop of the St. Louis Cardinals, will be presented for consideration by representatives of the National league clubs.

Preliminary steps were completed last night when the Chicago Cubs named Phil Cavarretta and Billy Jures to represent them on the committee of 16 National league players—two for each club—who will confer with President Ford Frick in New York, preliminary to drawing up a new form of baseball contract. The naming of the club captain and veteran infielders completed the selection of the eight National league clubs to the players' board.

The American league delegation, consisting of one representative from each club, with the exception of two which also selected alternates, was completed last Tuesday. It will meet with league head Will Harbridge in Chicago.

The Pirates, first club selected for unionization by Robert Murphy, organizer of the American Baseball guild, last night handed their representatives, Pitcher Rip Sewell and third baseman Lee Handly, an eight-point program for presentation at the meeting. Chief among the demands was one for a $7,500 minimum annual salary.

HUGE PLANES MAY BE TAKEN FROM SERVICE

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics board Wednesday called upon the Lockheed Aircraft Co. and four other firms to show why Lockheed Constellation airliners, now temporarily grounded, should not be removed from service permanently.

The action was taken, Cab said, after the Civil Aeronautics administration filed complaints against the five companies seeking to revoke permanently the operating certificates for the planes. They are engaged primarily in trans-oceanic flying.

Named in the complaints, Cab said, were Lockheed, producer of the Constellations; Wright aeronautical, engine maker; and three airplane companies which have used the planes. The latter were identified as Pan American, Transcontinental and Western air and American overseas.

10 Days To Answer
Cab said the companies have been given 10 days in which to answer the complaints and to request hearings.

About 40 Constellations, each capable of carrying 40 or more passengers, were grounded for 30 days in July 12 after one of the planes crashed on a training flight near Reading, Pa. Five crewmen were killed.

Grounding of the planes snarled trans-oceanic travel and left scores of passengers temporarily stranded. It had little effect on domestic service, however, since TWA was the only company using the planes on J. S. routes.

TOURIST BOOM REACHES PEAK

Harrisburg, July 25 (AP)—Pennsylvania's tourist and vacation boom is now at its peak—and shows no signs of letting down.

Even wayside inns "off the beaten path" are doing a record business, said Herbert Walker, Director of the Recreation Bureau of the State Commerce department.

Vacationists are flocking to every outdoor spot from the Poconos in northwest Pennsylvania, to Lake Erie in the west.

"Where in former years fishermen in the Poconos used to rent cabins along the lakes, now they have to bring their own tents and camp out if they want any accommodations," Walker declared.

Plan Longer Season
Quite a few of the summer hotels and inns are making plans to remain open longer than ordinarily. House vacationists who have put off their outings until later in the year.

Another innovation this summer has been the arrival of many pleasure-seekers in the Poconos by airplane.

Promoted by the Poconos mountains airport association, the Mt. Poconos Airport, 2,000 feet above sea level, has been utilized to reach hotels in that vicinity.

OPA SUITS SETTLED

Pittsburgh, July 25 (AP)—OPA suits against four coal companies for alleged overcharges have been settled privately by payment of $4,028.21. The Pittsburgh district office of OPA announced. Cases settled were against the Greensburg-Connellsville Coal company, the Baton Coal company, Mutual Supply company, and the Aldwood Coal company and Juliette coal company.

Recover Doctors' Bodies From Lake

Cambridge, Ohio, July 25 (AP)—Seneca Lake Tuesday night yielded up the bodies of Dr. Maxwell S. Kaplan, 46, and Dr. Merrill F. Jones, 30, who drowned Saturday when a rowboat from which they had been fishing capsized in a storm.

The scene of the tragedy is 16 miles southeast of here. Both doctors formerly lived in Pittsburgh and Dr. Kaplan once resided at Windber, Pa. Dr. Kaplan's survivors include a sister, Mrs. Abe Stept of Johnstown, Pa.

Mother Of Five Is Killed; Man Suicides

Philadelphia, July 25 (AP)—Five bullets from a 22 caliber revolver Wednesday killed Mrs. Margaret Tubbs, 37-year-old mother of five children, and Russell F. Shoffstall, 32, at her home near Southwest airport.

Detectives Vincent Melvin and James J. Rohan said there was no doubt that Shoffstall shot Mrs. Tubbs and then himself.

Mrs. Tubbs, a waitress at an airport cafe, was said to have been estranged from her husband. Shoffstall had been working as a laborer.

SAYS U.S. HAS RACIAL CASTE

Moscow, July 25 (AP)—The Russian reporter Ilya Ehrenburg wrote in Izvestia today that the United States had a legalized racial caste system in the case of negroes and an entirely unofficial racial caste system in the treatment of Jews, Italians and Chinese.

Ehrenburg has just returned from an extensive, unrestricted tour of the United States. "America, which never knew feudalism, has established another hierarchy—a racial one," he wrote. "The English, Scotch and Irish are the aristocracy. After them come the Scandinavians and Germans, and then the French and Slavs. The Italians are many times lower. The Jews are even lower. Puerto Ricans are below them and the last at the bottom of the ladder are the negroes."

Ehrenburg said the United States to him was a "puzzling place which helped to defeat Hitlerism, but which takes anti-Semitism as a natural phenomenon and deprives negroes of all human rights."

At Nashville, Tenn., the reporter said an unidentified man tried at length to convince him there were lower and higher races, repeating "All the theories of Rosenberg and other ideologists of the Third Reich."

CHINA'S WAR BALKS PLANS

Washington, July 25 (AP)—Mounting evidence of undeclared civil war in China seemed almost certain today to kill for this year American plans to help develop a modern, million-man Chinese Army.

Both Senate and House leaders agreed privately that legislation to authorize the United States to help organize, train and equip such an army has practically no chance of passage in the few days that remain before Congressional adjournment.

There was some belief at the capitol that a last minute appeal by Secretary of State Byrnes might bring action. But there was no indication at the State department that any such move is being planned.

The Military Aid bill is one of the key pieces in the government's Chinese policy built on the assumption that Gen. George C. Marshall, President Truman's special peace maker, would succeed in his efforts to unify the Nationalists and Communists forces.

American officials are still hopeful. But the flow of reports during the last ten days or so telling of increasing military operations by both the Communist forces and those of Chiang Kai-shek have started discussions among some authorities of what the United States might be able to do if unrestrained civil war should be declared.

Evert Duychinek, a Hollander who settled on Long Island in 1635, made the first stained glass in America.

FLAMING CROSS

Newark, Del., July 25 (AP)—A large flaming cross was found shortly after 1 a. m. Wednesday a half mile from here in a corn field along the New London road. Benjamin Work, a farmer living nearby, told state police he and his wife awakened shortly after midnight and heard men talking, several of them saying "hurry up." State police Corporal William J. Smith reported the wooden cross was wrapped in oil-soaked rags.

VETERAN ASKS FOR HIS OLD JOB ON BENCH

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The Senate judiciary committee faced a possible decision today on whether to approve a federal judge's advancement to a judicial post claimed by an ex-soldier under the selective service act.

The committee was called into a special session at 10:30 a. m. eastern standard time by Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.). McCarran said he hoped there would be final disposition of the nomination of U. S. District Court Judge Harry E. Kalodner of Philadelphia to the third circuit court of appeals.

Kalodner was nominated for the job by President Truman on May 7. The position has been vacant since January, 1945. Since last, August, however, former Circuit Court Judge William Clark of Princeton, N. J., has been suing the government for reinstatement to the third circuit following his discharge from the army several months before.

"Never Resigned"

Clark contended he never resigned from the bench when he accepted a lieutenant colonel's commission in 1942 and went into the army at the age of 50.

Clark's attorney, Lloyd Paul Stryker of New York, emphasized at the hearing that his client did not contest Kalodner's fitness for the post but rather opposed Kalodner only because Clark felt entitled to the job himself.

Stryker asked the committee to refuse to approve the nomination of any one to the seat pending outcome of Clark's court action to win nearly $10,000 in back pay and reinstatement on the third circuit.

The third circuit has jurisdiction for Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and the Virgin Islands.

Fire Police Chief; Won't Punch Clock

Pittsburgh, July 25 (AP)—Police Chief Sedo Paolino, who said he refused to punch time clocks installed at various places in Scott township, was dismissed Tuesday night by the township commissioners.

Paolino, former military policeman in the army, asserted the commissioners wanted to make a "night watchman" out of him.

The commissioners explained that all policemen were ordered to punch the clocks "so we could be sure they were on the job."

HOWARD HUGHES IN GOOD SHAPE

Los Angeles, July 25 (AP)—Two and a half weeks after his spectacular crash in an experimental plane, millionaire Howard Hughes is in "pretty good shape," his physicians say.

The doctors credit Hughes' terrific stamina and fighting spirit with keeping him alive despite a crushed chest, a fractured skull and multiple other, lesser injuries.

His left lung, which twice has been drained of fluid, has begun "functioning a little," reported Dr. Verne Mason, although "he certainly cannot be considered out of danger until all fluid has been removed from the left chest." A third tapping of the chest is planned.

INCUMBENTS GET THE AX

Oklahoma, City, July 25 (AP)—A wave of "anti-incumbent" sentiment swept three veteran democratic Congressmen and three long-time state officials from office in Tuesday's Oklahoma runoff primary election.

Personalities were the only issues in the races. No outstanding state or national questions were raised.

In addition to voting the veteran officeholders out, the state's Democrats picked Roy J. Turner, wealthy Oklahoma City oil and cattleman, as their nominee for governor in the Nov. 5 general election.

Turner will face Olney F. Flynn, former Tulsa mayor, who won the Republican nomination in the first primary July 2. Turner was chosen over Dixie Gilmer, Tulsa county prosecutor. Unofficial returns from 3,567 of the state's 3,701 precincts gave Turner 190,042, Gilmer 166,241.

Defeated were Congressmen Jed Johnson, in the House 20 years; Lyle Boren, in Congress 10 years; and Victor Wickersham, a House member five years.

TRUMAN SIGNS PROJECTS BILL

Washington, July 25 (AP)—President Truman signed two bills authorizing flood control, navigation, hydroelectric power and other water projects to cost ultimately $2,000,000,000.

All the country's major river basins are affected by the big programs. It's a long-range undertaking for which money yet must be appropriated by Congress before the work can be started. Annual appropriations for water projects approximate $300,000,000 in normal peacetime years.

Thus, the huge authorizations create a shelf of public works which proponents said will make jobs in hard times and at the same time assure orderly and full development of the country's water resources.

President Truman and the late President Roosevelt advocated such large-scale authorizations in the interest of employment. Engineers estimate that 75 per cent of the money spent for rivers and harbors and flood control goes for labor.

The navigation bill covers several major projects. The largest is the $500,000,000 Arkansas river program for which there is an initial authorization of $5,000,000.

The flood control bill carries a $400,000,000 authorization for the Ar-

Grains Destroyed In Reading Fire

Reading, Pa., July 25 (AP)—Approximately 22,000 bushels of wheat, oats, corn and barley, 40 tons of feed and valuable grinding machinery were destroyed Tuesday in a fire that razed the F. M. Brown's Sons' Flour and Feed mill in nearby Sinking Spring.

Emmet V. Brown, one of the owners, estimated damage at $100,000. The blaze disrupted traffic on an adjoining Lebanon Valley branch of the kansas valley; $12,471.00 for the Lehigh river, Pa.; and $125,000,000 for the Ohio valley; $15,500,000 for the Brazos river basin.
